Work Begins On Lisbon Road Project

Work has begun on the clearing of timber for the new right-of-way for the Route 45 Lisbon Road at Eagleton's Glen, about five miles south of Salem.

Dotted line shows path the relocated road will take to eliminate several dangerous curves and the old narrow bridge over Beaver Creek.

The new roadway will require a deep cut through the familiar hillsides in the Eagleton's Glen region, and the construction of a new bridge over the Erie railroad tracks.

The project, which will not be completed until August of next year, was awarded by the State Highway Department to two contracting firms, Sutton & Stewart, Inc., of Bridgeport and Hatcher Brothers Co. of Mingo Junction on a low bid of $1,118,861. The state allocated $133,000 for right-of-way easements.

Moslem Rebels Turn Down Bid By De Gaulle

General's Proposal
To Integrate Algerian
Population Rejected

CONSTANTINE, Algeria (AP)—Premier de Gaulle flew to eastern Algeria today for another enthusiastic welcome. Elsewhere, spokesmen for the nationalist Moslem rebels rejected his program to make them first-class Frenchmen.

Many Moslems were among the thousands who lined De Gaulle's route from the airport into Constantine, the mountainous, rebellion-backed eastern sector's chief city.

But in Cairo and Tunis, spokesmen for the Algerian National Liberation Front (FLN), spearhead of the revolt against French rule, said their organization will not accept De Gaulle's program to integrate Algeria's European and Moslem population, each with equal rights and equal votes for all.

The FLN spokesman in Cairo said the rebel organization's office there would issue a communique answering De Gaulle.

Constantine was the second stop on De Gaulle's three-day Algerian tour to establish his government's authority over insurgent French colonists and military leaders and to launch a new drive to end the 43-month-old nationalist rebellion. The massed thousands in Constantine cheered as De Gaulle declared from a flag-decked balcony, "All men here have the same rights—the same duties." The brief address was essentially the same as the one he delivered to a cheering throng of about 100,000 in Algiers Wednesday night.

De Gaulle spoke only in generalities that left Algerians in the dark on details of his plans for ending the 43-month rebellion. But there was no doubt the general captured and fired the imagination of Algerians residents more than anyone had done in a long time.

"I open the door to reconciliation," De Gaulle proclaimed in offering a program designed to win back rebels whom he praised as courageous. This was the program.

Within three months the nine million Arab and Berber Moslem Algerians and the 1½ million Algerians of French descent will join with 45 million residents of France in voting on the constitutional reforms he is pledged to draw up.

At some future date all Algerians will ballot on a single voting list for "representatives to the public administration."

"Ways must be opened which until now have been closed to many," he declared. "That means that the means of livelihood must

Thor Missile Nears Operational Goal

CAPE CANVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Air Force has shown that its Thor intermediate range ballistic missile development program is well on the way toward meeting its operational objective.

The huge IRBM took another big step Wednesday when it was fired from a tactical launching pad for the first time. The test appeared successful.

The pad, a simply constructed steel platform, was a prototype of the one to be used when the missile is deployed with troops later this year.

Thor squadrons are earmarked for assignment with the Royal Air Force in England by December. Air Force crews are undergoing training now.

Another operational vehicle—the transporter-erector—was used to place the Thor for firing. A conventional 90-foot service tower housed the missile, however, prior to launching.

The Air Force says that when the Thor is operational it will be fired in 15 minutes.

The missile was designed for a range of 1,500 miles but it reportedly has gone 2,600 miles.

Melee Reported At Kent State

13 Persons Arrested
After Demonstration

KENT, Ohio (AP)—Authorities who chased some 15 male students through a women's dormitory at Kent State University in the wee hours today wonder if someone didn't get hurt just a little bit.

Some of the 15 who got into Moulton Hall during the wild melee involving 1,500 to 2,000 persons apparently leaped through a screened window on a third floor in evading the long arm of the law.

Authorities said those who jumped either fled or were helped away by comrades.

In the wake of the 1½-hour demonstration, 13 persons—it was not known whether they were students or townspeople—were spending the last day of the school year in Portage County Jail.

No charges were filed immediately. Police Chief F. R. Grubb said tear gas was used in a futile attempt to break up the crowd at one of two women's dorms.

Authorities said they had been warned to expect some hi-jinks on the eve of the last school day, and the 15 were the only ones who gained entrance to a dormitory.

The demonstration, punctuated by exploding firecrackers and the ringing of gongs, finally ran out of steam at about 1:30 a. m., Grubb said.

Los Angeles Police Nab Man Wanted For Wellsville Theft

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio (AP)—Police Chief John Hephner of nearby Wellsville said Wednesday Los Angeles police have captured a man wanted in an $1,800 loan company robbery in Wellsville last December.

He identified the suspect as Mike Nichovich. A companion, identified as Richard E. Jones, was fatally wounded May 23 by Los Angeles police when the pair resisted arrest following a drug store robbery, Hephner said.

Hephner quoted Los Angeles police that Nichovich admitted he and Jones robbed the City Loan and Savings Co. in Wellsville Dec. 14. Nichovich admitted also, Hephner said, a series of robberies in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois as the pair traveled toward the West Coast.

Charges will be filed here, the police chief said, but it is expected that California authorities will prosecute Nichovich for crimes he admitted committing here.

Leetonia Council Gets Assurance

Sewer Rates Adequate For Expansion Project

By ELEANOR COPPERSMITH
LEETONIA — Village councilmen were assured that present sewer rates will be adequate to cover the proposed $100,000 improvement program at the sewage treatment plant when Council met Wednesday night.

Dale McCormick of the Board of Public Affairs and John Heimerdinger of the bonding firm of Walter, Woody and Heimerdinger of Cincinnati, said sewer rates, which were tripled from $2 to $6 quarterly a year ago, will provide necessary funds for improvements at the plant.

Upon receipt of final plans for the proposed repairs and installation of new equipment, an application will be submitted for federal aid.

Councilmen were advised that the flood control project for Little Beaver Creek is still under study, but definite plans for the improvements have not been received.

According to correspondence from Congressman Wayne L. Hays and Senator John Bricker, the proposed project will cost approximately $97,200, with $17,200 as the village's share.

A resolution was passed for the renewal of a three-year contract to furnish fire protection in Salem Township.

Fire chief Robert Brown requested a $60,000 bond issue for a new fire truck and station house be placed on the November ballot. The matter was tabled until next meeting, to enable further study of the issue.

The second reading of a proposed ordinance permitting parking only on the south side of Sommer St. was passed by a four-one vote.

Street Commissioner Richard Kleinknecht was authorized to contact local contractors for bids for installing a section of sidewalk between the Aiken and Otto properties on Ridge St. The contract will be awarded to the lowest bidder.

Scouts Will Hold Weekend Camporee

Boy Scout troops from the northern half of Columbiana County will stage their annual spring camporee this weekend at Camp McKinley, west of Lisbon.

Over 200 scouts and scouters representing 20 troops of the Shawnee district will participate.

The scouts will set up camp Friday evening.

Saturday morning the troops will engage in scouting field sports which include canoe races, fire building, first aid and other contests.

The public has been invited to attend the campfire Saturday evening at 9. In Indian pageant will open the program.

On Sunday all scouts will attend either Protestant services or Catholic Mass in the morning. The remainder of the day will be spent fishing, hiking and working on requirements for scout ranks.

The Ohio Department of Natural Resources is bringing its educational trailer to Camp McKinley for the scouts and public to view.

Tornado Cuts 90-Mile Swath Across State

Guardsmen Ordered
To Storm Area To Aid
In Rescue Operations

MENOMONIE, Wis. (AP) — A house splintering tornado cut a 90-mile swath through four northwestern Wisconsin counties Wednesday night, leaving at least 20 persons dead and more than 100 injured in its wake of devastation.

Full fury of the funnel struck the small community of Colfax where 100 houses were destroyed or badly damaged.

Ten of the known dead were found in Colfax ruins. Rescuers searched the wreckage for more bodies. At least 35 persons in the community of 1,000, were injured.

Only debris-littered basements remained in the northside residential district of Colfax. An open field nearby was a junkyard of wrecked cars, timbers from homes and shattered household goods.

Scores of farm homes and barns fell before the storm's power as it roared through rural areas around Menomonie and Chippewa Falls.

Communications were knocked out and rescuers made farm-by-farm visits to check on welfare of residents.

After its destructive northside touch-down in Colfax, the twister skipped the business district to maul homes on the community's southside.

One relief worker said "just 10 minutes is all it took." The blowing rain that accompanied the blow came down the street like a wave, she said.

Gov. Vernon Thomson ordered three companies of National Guardsmen to duty in the storm area for rescue and rehabilitation work.

Striking just after the supper hour, the twister caught many families unaware as their houses were flattened about them.

Communications and power lines were torn out and extent of the catastrophe was slow in becoming known. Officials used a makeshift network of police, sheriffs' and civil defense radios to marshal doctors and nurses at hospitals in the area.

They also summoned ambulances and made appeals for station wagons and covered trucks to carry the injured to hospitals.

The funnel tore into Wisconsin at Woodville, just east of the St. Croix River, and caused destruction as far as Ludington, in Eau Claire County 80 miles to the east. It covered parts of St. Croix, Dunn, Eau Claire and Chippewa counties.

With electricity out, rescue parties used hand torches and headlights to probe the tangled wreckage for victims. Hospitals over the area were crammed with the injured, some reported critically hurt.

Eight identified dead and the body of an unidentified woman were taken from the ruins at Colfax, where police radio reports said half the buildings of that community of about 1,000 were smashed. Injuries also were reported heavy.

Commencement Indoors Tonight If It Rains

In case of rain, which has been predicted for tonight, Superintendent E. S. Kerr said today that commencement exercises will be held in the Salem High School auditorium beginning at 8:15.

Since the seating capacity of the auditorium is limited, Supt. Kerr said that only those persons holding tickets will be permitted to attend.

However, should the weather be clear this evening, commencement exercises will be held at Reilly Stadium as scheduled.

Ohio Supreme Court to Review Cases

Long Delay Likely On SUB Decision

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Months of delay appeared likely today before a final decision on the hot, recession-fueled issue of whether supplemental unemployment benefits (SUB) and state jobless compensation may be paid at the same time.

The Ohio Supreme Court has decided to give two SUB test cases a full review. That action possibly could postpone a decision until late in the fall.

The high court admitted two Mahoning County cases for review late Wednesday. If normal procedure is followed, opposing attorneys could demand and get as much as 90 days for filing briefs and other proceedings. Hearings would follow and the court might then deliberate several months before announcing its decision.

At its discretion, the Supreme Court could shorten the time permitted for filing briefs. But attorneys for intervening parties in the SUB cases have said they will demand the full time normally allotted.

John W. Hardwick is the assistant attorney general who argued the cases in Mahoning County courts in behalf of James R. Tichenor, administrator of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation (BUC). Hardwick told newsmen he will refile his original briefs with the Supreme Court in an effort to speed up the cases.

Chief Justice Carl V. Weygant told newsmen the court will not initiate any move to speed up the cases. It will be up to the attorneys involved, he added.

Common pleas and appellate courts in Mahoning County held in both cases that present state law permits an unemployed worker to receive simultaneous SUB and state jobless benefits.

Those decisions upset a ruling by Tichenor that SUB payments are remuneration under Ohio law and must be deducted from BUC benefits.

The two cases arose when the AFL-CIO Steelworkers Union challenged the ruling.

House Divided On Defense Bill

Close Vote Expected
On Army Money Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — House members backing a big Army looked to a roll call today to rivet into a defense appropriations bill enough money to prevent a 30,000-man drop in Army strength.

Both sides on the issue said the outcome may be close.

Except for that roll call, the House Wednesday finished work on the biggest appropriations bill of the year.

The extra 99 million dollars earmarked for a bigger Army would boost the over-all defense total to $38,409,561,000. This is $212,614,000 more than President Eisenhower asked.

The group favoring a big Army won an initial victory when an amendment carrying the 99 millions was approved tentatively by a 108-79 vote.

The House refused, however, to approve 35 million dollars requested by Eisenhower, and denied by the committee, to start work on a second nuclear-powered aircraft carrier. An amendment to add the carrier funds was offered by Rep. Francis Dorn (R-NY) and was shouted down by voice vote.

Rep. Robert Spikes (D - Fla) sponsored the Army amendment and told the House it would be taking calculated risk to cut the Army to 870,000 fighting men as the administration proposed. Estimated Army strength is now 900,000 and Spikes' amendment would keep it at that figure during the fiscal year starting July 1.

The Spikes and Dorn amendments were the only ones offered. Otherwise, the House followed the appropriations committee's figures. The committee had boosted overall presidential money requests by $113,614,000, exclusive of the 99 million dollar increase for the Army.

The added funds provide for a speed-up in missile and anti-submarine warfare programs and override Eisenhower's plans to reduce the size of the Army's national guard, the Army reserve and the Marine Corps. They provide for Marine Corps strength of 200,000.

Ike May Clarify Position on Aid

May Explain Stand
On Bill to Help Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower may clarify today his stand on a Senate proposal that he be permitted to spend foreign aid money in Soviet satellite countries to escape Moscow domination.

Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif.), a strong opponent of the idea for which others have claimed administration blessing, said the matter would be discussed at a White House meeting of GOP congressional leaders.

Knowland has offered an amendment to strike the provision from the $3,712,000,000 foreign aid bill now before the Senate.

The provision would permit the President, if he deems it in the national interest, to provide financial and economic assistance to any country except the Soviet Union, Red China or Communist North Korea.

The bill survived its first test Wednesday night as the Senate rejected 56-16 an amendment by Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis) to shift all military aid funds from the foreign aid bill to the regular Defense Department budget.

Proxmire argued that lumping military and economic aid together creates the impression that the foreign aid budget "is three times as large as it is."

Two Wellsville Men Fined for Sheep Theft

LISBON—Homer McWilliams, 42, and Frank Binegar, 30, of Wellsville were each fined $300 and costs for larceny and committed to the county jail in lieu of their fines by Common Pleas Court Judge Raymond Buzzard Wednesday.

They were charged with breaking down a fence and stealing a sheep belonging to Hugh W. Jack of Wellsville on Dec. 8, 1957.

Indicted by the January Grand jury, they pleaded guilty at arraignment day and requested probation which Judge Buzzard denied because both had previous criminal records.

Relaxes From Cares of State at Cabin

Dulles Helps Wife with Chores While Vacationing in Canada

NEW YORK (AP) — Relaxing from the cares of state, John Foster Dulles squeezes lemon juice for his wife, washes and dries the breakfast dishes and splits small wood.

This glimpse of the secretary of state on vacation comes from a log of their latest trip to their cabin on Duck Island in Lake Ontario.

The diary "By Janet and Foster Dulles" was published yesterday in a copyrighted story in the New York Herald Tribune.

Dulles generally gets up at 7 a.m. and starts an open fire going. The lemon squeezing done, his wife gets up, and, if the water is warm enough, she swims.

Breakfast is consumed leisurely in an hour. After Dulles washes and dries the dishes, he dumps the garbage and contents of wastepaper baskets; hauls water, splits small wood, and brings logs and the wood into the cabin for the day's fires.

There is no luncheon at Duck Island. Most of the day, the log reports, the Dulleses spend considerable time and effort keeping themselves living comfortably.

In the early spring and fall, the hours from 10:30 to 4:30 are spent in walks, looking for deer, birds and flowers. Maples are tapped for syrup and dead trees cut down, sawed and chipped, in the spring.

Summer means fishing, sailing and canoeing. Berries are picked according to seasons.

On rainy days, Dulles often works on speeches and his wife types for him.

The dinner meal is quite elaborate and carefully thought out. It is cooked largely over an open fire and follows cocktails and hors d'oeuvres — outdoors if weather permits.

A typical dinner includes hickory nuts from the island; raw carrots and celery; tinned lobster, crab or anchovies; broiled giblets or pate de foie gras; soup or fish and meat, generally chops, beefsteak, chicken or veal cutlets; and two green vegetables; and potatoes or rice.

That's not all. Pie or homemade pudding follow, salad with French dressing in warm weather; and cheese with pie or, usually, with cognac.

Then, after a walk or canoeing if weather permits, the day closes at 9 p.m. with Mrs. Dulles reading aloud some book of travel or adventure.

Plumbing Application Forms Are Distributed

LISBON—The Columbiana County Health Department is distributing copies of new application forms for a revised schedule which provides for an inspection fee of $2 to be added to permits for plumbing and sewage installations.

The fee was established by the county health board at its last meeting.

Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner, urges county plumbers to report persons who are installing plumbing without a permit.

Persons who plan to do plumbing or sewage work should contact the health department for application forms before they begin the job, he said.

Youngstown Fraud Case To Go to Jury

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—The case of William Glaros, 44-year-old printing firm head accused of aiding and abetting the Tobin-Shade insurance swindle, is expected to go to the jury today.

John J. Tobin Jr., 30, ringleader in the fraud against the America Associated Insurance Co. which employed him as a $100-a-week claim adjuster, testified against Glaros Wednesday.

So did Paul E. Shade, 32, Tobin's chief confederate in the scheme.

Both Tobin and Shade said on the stand that they at no time informed Glaros or discussed in detail the purpose of phony letterheads, forms, statements and a fake newspaper tear sheet they had him print for them and used to support false claims against the insurance company.

However, Shade said he signed three fictitious checks in front of Glaros and testified:

"One time he (Glaros) asked me, 'Who are you today?'"

Another time, Shade said, Glaros cautioned him:

"You boys better watch it, you're speeding."

The charge against Glaros involves the largest of a number of fake claims processed by Tobin last year—one for $56,000 filed last summer. Tobin and Shade have pleaded guilty and were sentenced to 1-10 years in Ohio Penitentiary.

Democrat Hustler, Vote-Getter

Pat Brown Complete Opposite Of GOP Opponent, Knowland

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—If you didn't know him, you might think twice before picking out Edmund G. (Pat) Brown as anyone likely to become governor of California.

In politics and in personality, the cheery, round-faced attorney general is the complete opposite of his Republican opponent, Sen. William F. Knowland.

But Republicans don't underrate the 53-year-old Democrat. He's a hustler and a vote-getter. For eight years he has been the only

Ohio Wins $140,000 In Irish Sweepstakes

GENEVA, Ohio (AP)—In April a friend of her husband poked his head in the kitchen of Les Miller's Lounge Bar here and asked Mrs. Miller whether she wanted to buy an Irish Sweepstakes ticket.

She said: "Sure, why not? I'm part Irish—maybe I'll win," Mrs. Miller recalled.

Wednesday Mrs. Miller learned the ticket won $140,000 for her in the English Derby at Dublin, and after taxes she will have a net of about $84,240. She was the only Ohioan among 11 U. S. winners.

"I just can't believe all that money will be mine," the 45-year-old winner declared. "The only other thing I had won in my whole life was a turkey, and that was a long time ago."

Democrat holding statewide office. Tuesday's primary results confirmed his two-party popularity.

Brown, a self-styled moderate, has an average-man look. He's plain and informal, with an air of sincerity. Once a Republican, he has helped unify his present party after years of disputes.

Brown both worked and joshed his way through an intensive primary campaign.

"I have a hard name to remember but I hope you'll try," the plump candidate told one audience.

He combined personal campaigning with sharply worded attacks against Knowland and Knowland's injection of the so-called right-to-work issue.

Brown said he was all for clenching up any labor union corruption. But as for right-to-work laws favored by Knowland, "I am against them, period."

The San Francisco-born attorney, of Irish-German descent, switched his registration to Democratic in 1934 after running unsuccessfully for the State Assembly.

He and Mrs. Brown have five children, including a 19-year-old son who is studying for the Catholic priesthood.

If he's elected, Brown will be California's first Democratic governor since 1938, its second in this century.

State to Open Bids on First 2 Federal Recession Projects

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Department of Highways will open bids June 24 for the first two federal projects designed to help relieve unemployment during the recession.

In all, bids will be opened for road projects worth about 20 million dollars, including the cost of right-of-way land. Major projects include two more sections of the North-South Freeway (Ohio 1) and another section of the Cincinnati-Dayton six-lane freeway, U. S. 25.

The recession projects call for widening and resurfacing more than 12 miles of U. S. 24 in Henry and Lucas counties, to be finished Aug. 31, and improving about one mile of U. S. 224 in Medina County, including a grade separation with the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad. That project is to be finished by Sept. 30.

The federal government will pay two-thirds of the cost of each project from money made available recently.

One Ohio 1 project is south of Ashtabula and includes a grade separation with the New York Central Railroad. It will cost about 4 million dollars and is to be finished Sept. 30, 1959.

The other is in Lake County south of Painesville and will cost about 6 million dollars, mainly because of the number of bridges involved. It is to be finished Oct. 31, 1959.

The six-lane project on U. S. 25 is southeast of Hamilton and will cost about 5½ million dollars before it is finished July 31, 1960. The department plans to place all of the Cincinnati-Dayton Freeway under contract this year.

After contracts are awarded for the June 24 bid-opening projects, the department will have placed projects totaling 175 million dollars under contract since the first of the year.

About one million dollars worth of resurfacing work will be offered in 24 projects in these counties: Allen, Putnam, Hocking, Coshocton, Fairfield, Hamilton, Holmes, Lawrence, Lorain, Madison, Union, Mahoning, Monroe and Morgan. During July the department will open bids for 100 or more additional resurfacing projects.

Other major projects for which bids will be opened June 24 include:

Columbiana — Improving 3.3 miles of Ohio 164 in Wayne and Center Twp.

Scioto — Improving two-thirds of one mile of U. S. 52 in Portsmouth.

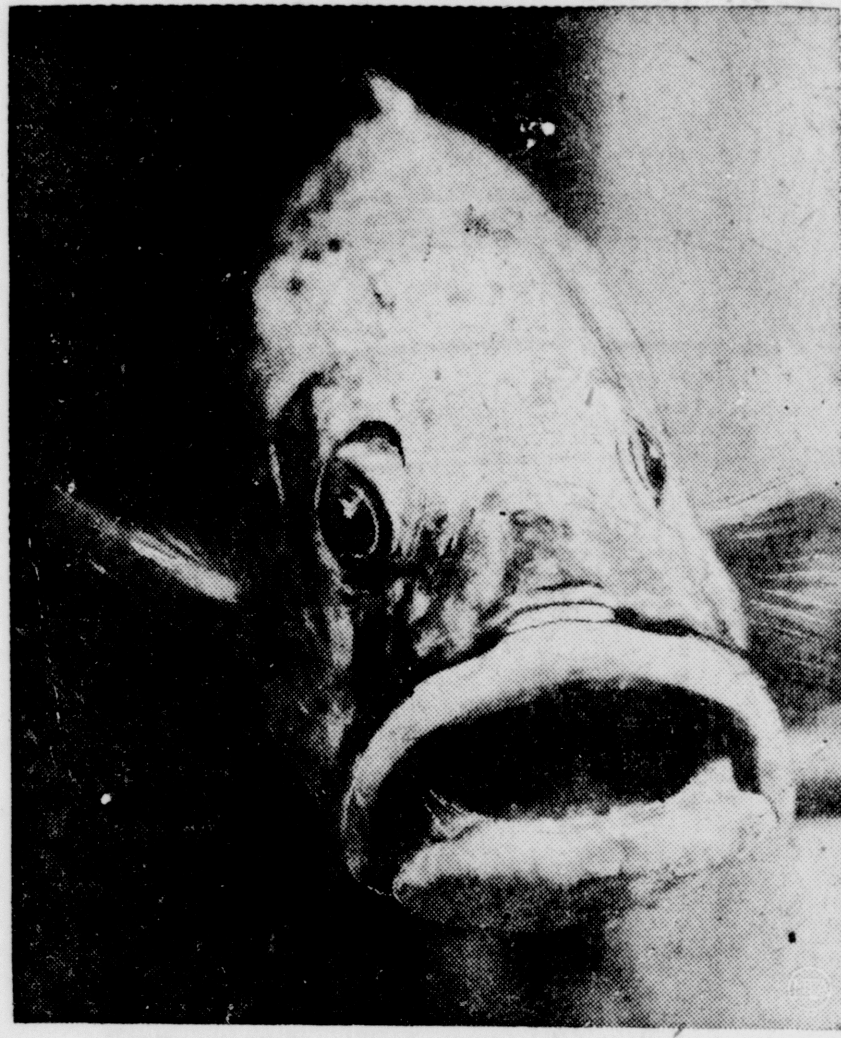

Allen — Improving one-third mile of Ohio 103 in Bluffton.

Mahoning — Improving nearly one mile of Ohio 90 in Poland Twp. and building bridges over Burgess Run.

Scio — Improving two-thirds of one mile of U. S. 52 in Portsmouth.

Allen — Improving one-third mile of Ohio 103 in Bluffton.

Mahoning — Improving nearly one mile of Ohio 90 in Poland Twp. and building bridges over Burgess Run.

HE'S IN TROUBLE — With his open-mouthed look of dismay, this rock cod might have been listening as New England congressmen urged the House Merchant Marine Committee to approve a five-year aid program to save the U.S. groundfishing industry. A rock cod, you see, is a groundfish. He and others of his type hang around the bottom of the ocean till a smart fisherman gets them. The legislation would provide groundfishermen federal grants-in-aid, low cost loans and incentive payments. Annual cost of the program was estimated at 43 million dollars.

Primary in California Shows Definite Party Resurgence

By MORRIE LANDSBERG

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—What happened in California's primary election Tuesday? Why the big Democratic splash?

Probably no one reason can explain. A number of factors appear to fit into the complex pattern of California politics that background the election figures.

Something similar happened in 1954. It didn't create the same stir, however, because a national figure like Sen. William F. Knowland wasn't involved. And the Democratic margin wasn't as great.

Four years ago, the California ballot began to identify candidates as either "Dem" or "Rep." for the first time. Democrats — who outregistered the Republicans 3-2 — harnessed their big vote and nominated a full slate for state officers.

But in November, Californians returned to their old independent voting ways. They ignored party lines. Every Democrat running for statewide office was defeated — except one. That was Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown.

Republicans think they can win again next November. But Democratic party leaders are openly talking about a landslide. They feel the voters are ready for a change.

There's no doubt the primary showed a definite party resurgence in California. One test is the huge vote rolled up by Brown, leading his ticket as the Democratic candidate for governor.

Republicans pointed out that Knowland devoted only 14 days in the state to his primary campaign. That was all he needed for the Republican gubernatorial nomination. It's true. But Brown, who has been in the state for weeks, walked off with the high popular vote by more than 500,000.

Gov. Goodwin Knight campaigned strenuously in his Republican race for the U.S. Senate. But Knowland outdrew him. More important, so did the Democratic nominee, Rep. Clair Engle of Red Bluff.

Just about everyone cross-filed in hopes of winning both nominations. Nobody did except a handful of state legislators and congressmen, and nearly all of these were Democrats.

Cincinnati Man Faces Sentence For Slaying

CINCINNATI (AP) — William D. Batson, stocky 28-year-old railroad fireman, faces 1-20 years in Ohio Penitentiary for manslaughter.

er. He was saved by a jury from the state's demand that he go to the electric chair for the knife-slaying of his estranged wife, Isabel.

His seven-day first-degree murder trial ended late Wednesday. Judge Carson Hoy immediately pronounced sentence.

Batson broke into tears at the verdict, returned by the jury of eight men and four women. "I expected some punishment and I deserved it for causing my wife's death," he sobbed.

Nimble Thimble 4-H Club

A work day for all first, second, third and fourth year members of the Nimble Thimble 4-H Club will be held Tuesday at Goshen Grange.

Plans for the work day were announced at a meeting of the club Tuesday evening in the home of Janet Wagniller. The meeting was opened with the 4-H pledge and devotions. Members answered roll call by naming favorite vegetables.

It was announced that all projects are to be completed by July 25. The club decided to buy an American flag and a 4-H flag.

Francine Evans and Nancy Jensen demonstrated how to apply first aid to a broken arm. Janet Wagniller and Barbara Bailey told what items should be included in a first aid kit.

A discussion on health and safety was presented by the health and safety director, Ruth McCormick.

Mary Jane Mathews, Susan Mathews, Ruth McCormick and Lois Schaefer accompanied the club in singing the "Litterbug Rag." Refreshments were served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be June 17 at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Francine Evans.

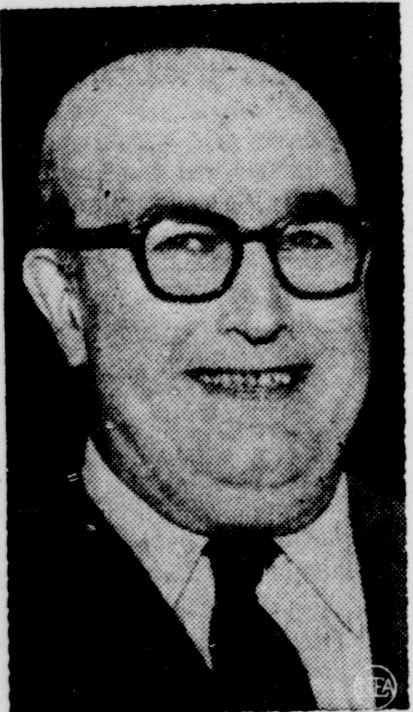

Bullet-Riddled Body Found Near Ravenna

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP) — The bullet-riddled body of John W. Moore, a 20-year-old Indiana airman stationed at Loring Air Force Base in Maine, was found alongside a Portage County road near here Wednesday.

The coroner said there were two bullet holes in the victim's head and that he had died some 18 hours before the body was discovered.

Moore was identified as being from Terre Haute, but a check there showed his parents had moved Wednesday to Plymouth, Ind. They were not immediately located.

Officers sought to find out if Moore had been driving an automobile. They theorized the tall, slender airman may have been shot and robbed by a hitchhiker who then fled in Moore's car.

IT'S OFFICIAL — Leonard W. Hall, above, has formally declared himself in the race for his party's nomination for governor of New York. Hall, 50, former chairman of the Republican National Committee, is the first declared candidate. Others expected to announce their candidacies are Nelson A. Rockefeller, State Sen. Walter J. Mahoney and U.S. Attorney Paul W. Williams.

Proceed, Gentlemen

City Council has decided to continue with its program of revamping and modernizing the city's street lighting system, rather than accept a $52,021 offer of the Ohio Edison Company to buy the system outright and begin immediate improvements.

The Council majority was reluctant to sell the distribution system it already owns, although two members favored accepting the utility firm's proposition. Ohio Edison had increased its offer twice since an original $32,188 bid was submitted two years ago.

Few citizens will argue with Council over its hesitancy to dispose of a lighting system, the value of which it feels is far greater than the utility company's offer. There are others, however, who will agree that the city's streets are poorly-lighted at best and that better illumination is sorely needed.

Brighter mercury vapor lights were installed several years ago in the downtown district as a part of a "white way" lighting program and a gradual extension of this type of lighting has been progressing outward into residential areas as funds permitted.

It is the recommendation of Council's street lighting committee that this program of local improvements continue so that within four years the modernization can be completed.

City Council has thrown the switch for the city electrician to proceed. Let's get the job done.

Congress Should Wake Up Too

In two cases involving labor unions, the United States Supreme Court has held, in effect, that unions can be held as financially accountable for misdeeds as individuals or corporations.

The cases originated in Alabama and California, where lower courts had awarded damage judgments against unions for injuries to individuals. In both actions, the union contended such cases are not properly in the jurisdiction of state courts but come under the jurisdiction of the National Labor Relations Board.

In the Alabama case, which involved denial of employment of an electrician through mass picketing, Justice Burton wrote for the majority: "If the employee's common law rights of action . . . are to be cut off, that would, in effect, grant to unions a substantial immunity from the consequences of mass picketing or coercion such as was employed during the strike in the present case."

According to United Auto Workers, the decision would apply to at least 89 other cases in Alabama alone.

Justice Black, an Alabamian, did not participate in either of the cases, both decided by 6 to 2 votes.

In the California case, the court upheld the lower courts in granting a machinist the right to sue for reinstatement and damages after he was expelled from the International Association of Machinists in 1950.

In writing the majority opinion, Justice Frankfurter upheld the ruling of the California state courts that a union member unjustifiably expelled from his union may appeal to the courts for relief.

Although a Californian, Chief Justice Warren did not eliminate himself from participation but wrote the minority opinion, in which Justice Douglas concurred. Chief Justice Warren objected to both decisions on the ground they could create duplications and conflicts with the NLRB and to the California case in particular on the ground it could open unions to "staggering punitive damages."

In a special report for the majority, on the jurisdiction of the civil courts in cases involving labor unions, Justice Frankfurter wrote:

"If the union's conduct constituted an unfair labor practice, the national board might possibly have been empowered to award back pay; in no event could it mulct in damages for mental or physical suffering. And the possibility of partial relief from the national board does not, in such a case as is here presented, deprive a party of available state remedies for all damages suffered."

In substance, Justice Frankfurter said that the unions are under the law and not, as some unionists contend, a law unto themselves.

The decisions are monumental. They carry major implications for labor-management relations. They open the way for a sharp increase in lawsuits against unions — suits that the two dissenters predicted could bankrupt some labor organizations.

The financial accountability of unions now is established. The Supreme Court has recognized the need for restraint that is recognized by public opinion throughout the country.

Congress, itself, is in the process of recognizing the same thing as it prepares to debate proposals to curb abuses and corruption that have become commonplace in some unions.

The Best Ceremony of Them All

If an older could tell a youngster what to remember—and if the youngster would listen—there would be special emphasis on high school graduation. It is the best ceremony of them all, in retrospect.

Oldsters recall even tiny details about the great event. They remember how the lilacs were in bloom and how the speeches were too long and too tedious. But they remember, too, that they wanted time to stand still for the first time in their lives. It suddenly was running away with their lives.

They remember the casual farewells—too casual, as it turned out, because they never saw some of their classmates again. They remember about switching the tassel from left to right (or was it from right to left) and how they felt when they received the diploma. They remember what they wore under their caps and gowns and how it felt afterward to realize they had finished their public school education.

And they remember the lump in the throat and the mistiness in the eyes that kept happening during the process of being separated from their first group of friends—the last look at the school, the last times they did all the things they had been doing since they started going to school.

The memories get clearer as the years pass. Things only half seen may become monumental in perspective—the wisdom of something a teacher once said, an experience that revealed something about the nature of the world, a lesson whose significance was not understood at the time.

On second thought, no older needs to tell any youngster to remember his high school graduation. Whether the youngsters believe it or not, they will remember the best ceremony so vividly they will be able to remember the color of the hair on the girl who sat in front of them long after they have forgotten the girl.

By H. I. Phillips

Only the squirrel lives habitually on the principle that things are bound to get tougher.

THE U.S. SENATE has been putting on its own rousical quiz show with the chief question, "When is music not music and should song writers like Berlin, Rodgers, Hammerstein and Porter be sidetracked on airwaves for composers with special talent for splitting cardrums?"

Make good on these questions and you can go on to: (1) Should songs be pumped into the homes of America be recognizable at once as songs and not as cries of panic from a leaking rubber raft; (2) Should music be something that can be taken without earplugs and tranquilizer pills.

THIS SEEMS TO BE children's hour in theater and on TV. Hardly a Broadway musical opens without featured moppets. Dramas and farce comedies center around them. On TV crooning infants are busting out all over.

Commercials ring with children's voices. A child of four who has never been used in a sales plug for a corporation seeking a greater sales record may soon be a novelty. In years to come some adults are going to be terribly embarrassed if they see a rerun of their babyhood exploitation at a time when they were helpless to resist.

In the theater itself these are days when casting offices are full of small fry. There are producers who wouldn't take a chance on a revival of Hamlet without working in quartet of Huck Finns. Macbeth wouldn't be attempted at the moment without a nursery episode.

Once Over

The consumer holds the key to quick recovery, say monetary experts. If the American buyers stay cautious and fearful the slump will get worse. But since they have been buying big for years without batting an eye, chances are they won't substitute buttons for zippers on pocketbooks. "Don't be a Scrooge," express normal American psychology. Prosperity calls for consumer teamwork. It is not American disposition to "stay on the bench" in a critical period of a game.

FOLKS LOVE SLOGANS. Our economy is helped by them. We suggest a few:

Let your purse be your guide but not your keeper.

A timid shopper is a recession's best friend. Don't spend foolishly and don't tighten up crazily.

Give recovery a hand or the slump may give you "the foot."

The key to economic upswing is your wallet but never confuse a wallet with a hole in a tire.

Buyers put people back to work. Prophets of gloom never yet got into a photo finish with believers in the American way.

Stop, look and listen! But don't stop at shadows, look at scarecrows or listen to congenial killjoys, Monday morning quarterbacks and neurotic kibitzers.

Don't confuse thrift with stinginess or prudence with timidity.

Don't quit when you're ahead in bookkeeping but behind in confidence.

If you too want unemployment, be a penny-pincer.

A nation that plans to shoot for the moon can shoot for the jackpot.

Reds Picking Up the Pieces

By JAMES MARLOW

Soviet Communists blew the roof off in 1956, and have been going since. They picked up a piece Tuesday around picking up the pieces every day, disclaiming the idea that communism outside the Soviet Union could develop independently of Moscow.

Nikita Khrushchev, then party boss and now premier, put on a shattering performance as principal speaker of the Soviet Communist party's 20th Congress in February 1956.

He not only denounced Stalin's one-man rule and the "cult of the individual" but painted him as a murderer. He pictured the Soviet Union in the future as being guided by a collective leadership instead of that of one man.

This had shock effect on some non-Soviet Communists who had slavishly followed and defended every twist and turn laid down by Stalin. This brutal disillusionment drove some Communists out of communism. It helped split the American Communist party.

But this was also a time—in 1956—when the Kremlin was trying to woo back Marshal Tito and his Yugoslav Communists who had broken with Stalin and were pursuing their own course, independent of Moscow.

So long as Tito could survive and thrive separate from the Soviet Union and her European satellites, he would be a constant encouragement to them to try the same.

The 20th Congress was told that socialism, meaning communism, could develop at different speeds and in different ways in different countries and that conformity to the Moscow model was not compulsory.

This was trying to make the best of a bad situation, since Tito showed no signs of conforming. It was also propaganda to help Communist parties in non-Communist countries make a show of acting as nationalists concerned about their own countries' Communist development without subservience to Moscow.

But it had a bad effect. It looked as if Moscow was loosening—or losing—its grip on Communists outside the Soviet Union. It caused confusion in non-Soviet Communist ranks. And it gave captive peoples the idea they might throw off communism altogether.

The first bad effects showed in Poland. There were riots there. Then the Hungarians revolted in the fall of 1956. Things were getting out of hand. The Soviets sent in their army and crushed the Hungarian rebels.

But Tito wouldn't be wooed. He continued to play footsie with both the Soviets and the West, going his own independent way, seeking aid from both sides. In recent weeks the Soviets finally and publicly got sore at him.

And Tuesday in Bulgaria Khrushchev hit out at the Yugoslav boss, said Khrushchev: "No one will ever believe that there are two kinds of socialism (communism) in the world — one which world reaction furiously hates and the other which is agreeable to imperialists and to which they are giving their help and support."

Khrushchev said the Yugoslav leaders had declined to confer with other Communist parties to draft a general Communist program.

With these statements Khrushchev threw out the window those encouraging words of 1956: that different countries could follow their own road to communism without conforming to the Soviet model.

If any non-Soviet Communists took those words of 1956 seriously, a few probably did, they're disenchanted now.

Thus slowly and even painfully Khrushchev has been forced to repair the damage the Soviets did to themselves in February 1956.

Summit Talks Remote

By DAVID LAWRENCE

West Not Ready to Hold Summit Conference

There's nothing up in the air quite so much nowadays as the summit conference. For, with the entry of Gen. de Gaulle to the summit foursome, the truth is the West wouldn't be ready now to hold such a conference even if the Soviets welcomed it. Nobody here knows just what kind of a conference Gen. de Gaulle would make if a summit meeting were held tomorrow. It may take several months to find out what Gen. de Gaulle, speaking for France, will have to say on international questions. He certainly isn't the kind of man who plays second fiddle to anyone and if he participates in a summit conference he may be expected to have his own ideas as to what should be discussed or agreed upon.

So far as the Communists are concerned it isn't clear that they would benefit from a summit meeting either, if held in the near future. The game seems to be to talk about a summit conference but not to hold one. Thus the conversations at the ambassadorial level are going on in Moscow with Foreign Minister Gromyko. Doubtless voluminous reports, recording the usual double talk of diplomacy, are being made regularly to London and Paris and Washington but there is no sign that anything tangible has been accomplished or will be.

Neither the West nor the East can afford to drop the subject since it has been given such worldwide publicity.

There was a time when talk about the need for a summit conference was regarded as some kind of panacea surpassed only by the maudlin pleas for suspension of nuclear tests as a way to insure peace.

NOBODY SEEMS to have come forward with a plan that would end the use of the nuclear weapons themselves but many people in the world have been led to believe that mere suspension of the nuclear tests will remove all tensions and bring peace on earth and good will toward men.

Meanwhile, the fact of the matter is that tension with the Soviet Union continues throughout the world with such supposedly harmless weapons as financial aid and infiltration. The cold war is indeed being intensified by the Moscow government in all parts of the world.

It may well be that Gen. de Gaulle's accession to power in France could result in a solution of France's troubles in North Africa which would, of course, be a setback for the Communists who have been meddling in the situation there and have been hopeful it would bring about civil war in side France itself.

Gen. de Gaulle is reported to be antagonistic to the continuance of Communist influences inside France but willing to do business with Moscow in international affairs.

This may have been his view some time ago but there are signs that he will go along now with the attitude of the West. This is logical because Gen. de Gaulle cannot afford to have a split with his Western allies. Too much is at stake for him on the Western side.

CERTAINLY before there is any summit conference as between East and West, there will have to be a summit meeting separately among the Western leaders.

Prime Minister Macmillan is due in Washington this month and it seems likely that Gen. de Gaulle will want to come to Washington a little later after he has found some way to stabilize the Algerian situation.

Plainly, if the general triumphs in his Algerian policy, he will wish on the heels of that triumph to come to America and talk with President Eisenhower on broader questions of Allied policy.

For the United States is not interfering in Algeria and is as anxious as are the leaders of other Western countries to see some sort of solution that at least reduces the Communist capacity for trouble making in the area.

While outwardly the Moscow government professes still to be interested in a summit conference, it might be a risky thing from its viewpoint, too, to have one just now. The communist front is shaky.

Thus today there is a big fight going on between the Yugoslavians and the Russia Communists.

THE MOSCOW government, though boasting that it never puts strings on its foreign loans, has cracked down on Yugoslavia and actually has withheld on its financial commitments to that country.

It's an example of what other countries may be up against — including Egypt — where Nasser is trying to walk the tightrope and play the West against the East. The Kremlin has shown that it will not brook any show of independence even from Tito, and clearly Nasser isn't as powerful a figure as is Tito.

So a summit conference has become a remote goal but something that all sides seem to be eager to keep talking about because, somehow, it soothes then nervous and world who believe in summit conferences as the magic mechanism that will relieve the world of all its troubles.

GOP In Harlem

By RAYMOND MOLEY

The Republican party on the east side of Manhattan north of 96th St. is shadowy, nondescript, and impotent. There are, by authority of law, assembly district leaders and clubs, which close up on election day. Defeat is taken as a way of life.

A few crumbs of patronage come through labyrinthine channels when New York State has a Republican governor or attorney general or when there is a Republican president. Minute drops come from a few Republican Supreme Court judges. And Tammany cares enough for the maintenance of a shadow Republican party there to provide some patronage from its own rich stores.

When a candidate braves the hopeless task of running for certain defeat for Congress or the city council, bits of money are distributed up there. These payments as a rule are cash on the barrel head and no questions asked.

Since this alleged Republican party in that area has little or no responsibility and apparently no shame.

It seems to see nothing amiss in accepting as a candidate Adam Clayton Powell Jr., a refugee from the Democratic party who is under indictment, who still refuses to accept the Republican party as the one he would support in Congress, who has been castigated by the NAACP as a man who has invoked extreme racism as a reason for his prosecution and who also has made a threat of physical violence in case the Tammany leader or the borough president should walk "up and down the streets of Harlem."

Since the goddess of reason has no temples in the realm of politics, it does not seem inconsistent to those Republicans that Powell will also run in the Democratic primary.

There is also no sense in the patent fact that Powell protested when Tammany cast him out because he was a Republican in his habit of assuming the banner of the Republican party when the occasion offers.

What moves the feeble Republican organization in Harlem to this strange choice is that Powell has certain values as a candidate. He has a well-known name.

He also is the pastor, money-raiser, spiritual guide and inspired prophet of the immense Abyssinian church in that area.

Thus he may be elected, if he is not convicted before November. The Department of Justice may take plenty of time in trying the indictment.

And so lo and behold! The prophet may be knocking at the door of Congress, with his legal credentials and the label of Republican. In that case, there is little the House can do but accept him as a sovereign representative of the people. And the people are always right—or are they?

Most people like, summer better than winter because that's when everybody else is lazy, too.

It's funny how many people take advantage of the thought that it's human to make a mistake.

Furnishes Power to Jump Across Rivers

New Rocket Unit Enables Man To Do Extraordinary Feats

DENVILLE, N.J. (AP)—Development of a portable rocket unit allowing a man to run with the speed of a racehorse and jump extraordinary heights was described here yesterday.

Reaction Motors, manufacturer of rocket fuels for missiles and aircraft, said it has run successful tests on a unit strapped to a man's body. The unit provides enough thrust to partially overcome the pull of gravity and give a man a degree of weightlessness.

The device will increase the mobility of troops in battle, a Reaction Motors spokesman said, and the Army is "very enthusiastic."

Perhaps significantly, the motor was conceived by an ex-GI—Alexander H. Bohr, a onetime Army technical sergeant, now an engineer for Reaction Motors.

Robert Mayer, supervisor of public information for the firm, said the rocket is not a flying machine. By reducing the effect of gravity on a man, the rocket allows him to make better use of his muscles.

"He can run faster, can jump across rivers, scales walls and cliffs, jump extraordinary heights, and not be tired when he gets there," Mayer said.

Mayer pleaded patent secrecy in releasing only sketchy details of the device. He said no photos are available. Several other companies are working on the idea.

Several versions of the small motor have been tried out at Reaction Motor's test grounds at Lake Denmark, about seven miles from the main plant in this north-west New Jersey community.

"One of our engineers ran at superhuman speed," Mayer said. "According to calculations, the unit permitted him to go as fast as a good thoroughbred racehorse."

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
(Written for NEA Service)
An old shoe lay by the side of the road. It was covered with dirt and grime. It had been run over by many cars. The sole was good, the heel was scarcely worn. Why was it lying alone by the side of the street? Where was its mate? Had it been discarded or was it a lost article? Did someone wonder where it was, or had its owner forgotten that it existed? One could ask a thousand questions.

Hundreds of people had passed by without noticing the old shoe. Very few people could use just one shoe. Even those who glanced at the wayside item barely noticed the condition of the shoe or questioned the what and why of the shoe, its location or anything about its owner.

Many men and women treat their associates and their neighbors as this old shoe was being treated. They pay little attention to the circumstance or the plight of others. If they do notice other people, they offer no service and they even avoid any interest in understanding the lost soul.

None of us wants to be treated like an old shoe.

Miss Martin has chosen June 17 as her wedding date.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

If there is a lone woman in a group of married couples, the men should make sure that she is looked after. Being a lone woman in a group of couples can be awkward unless the men are courteously attentive.

In such a situation it is downright rude for the men to let a woman look after herself.

Joint Program on June 14 Set By County's DAV Chapters

Columbiana County's four chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution will hold a joint 14, at 1 p.m. in the Wick Hotel in luncheon and program in observance of Flag Day, Saturday, June 14.

The Rev. Phillip Fletcher, pastor of the Wellsville Presbyterian Church, will address members of the Rebecca Griscom Chapter of East Liverpool, the Lewis Kinney Chapter of Lisbon, the Bethia Southwick Chapter of Wellsville, and the local Phoebe Frances Chapter.

Salem members of the Phoebe Frances Chapter are asked to make reservations before Tuesday with the regent, Mrs. Michael Schuller, and the Columbiana members are asked to make reservations with Mrs. Mae Smith.

Plans for this event were completed at a recent committee meeting in the home of Mrs. C. E. Bonar of Lisbon. Mrs. J. W. Batey of East Liverpool presided.

Serving on the committee with Mrs. Batey and Mrs. Bonar were Mrs. Elaine Hurd, regent of the Lisbon chapter; Mrs. Clarence Green of Wellsville; Mrs. Donald Thompson, regent of Rebecca Griscom Chapter and Mrs. Neil Shope, both of East Liverpool, and Mrs. Schuller.

Mrs. Hurd, who is in charge of the luncheon arrangements, requests that each chapter notify her by Tuesday of the number of members who will be attending.

Miss Carol Ann Lockhart Wed To John Moff of Boardman

Miss Carol Ann Lockhart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lockhart of RD 1, Beloit, was married Saturday evening to John Moff, son of Mrs. Hazel Moff of Boardman.

The Rev. Max Boyer performed the ceremony at the Boardman Methodist Church.

The bride wore a street length dress styled with a white lace bodice and dactron skirt.

She wore a corsage of white carnations. The pearl necklace and earrings that complemented her attire, were gifts from the bridegroom.

Her sister, Mrs. Richard Hahlen of Beloit was matron of honor. Best man was Richard Hahlen.

Following the wedding, the couple left for a trip to Niagara Falls. Upon their return they reside at 1200 W. Western Reserve Road in Boardman.

The new Mrs. Moff is a graduate of McKinley High School at Sebring, and she is an assistant to Dr. George F. Jones in Salem.

Her husband was graduated from Boardman High School, and he attended Youngstown University. He is now employed by the Enterprise Corp. in Columbiana.

Personal Notes

Former Salem residents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Wisner of West View, Pa., were guests of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Dubler of N. Howard St. Saturday. Their son, Donald, graduated Wednesday from West View High School. He will enter University of Pittsburgh in September.

Their daughter graduated from the University of Pittsburgh in February. She has been teaching since that time fourth grade in West View and will receive her diploma Wednesday from the University of Pittsburgh.

LEETONIA — At a recent meeting of the Salem-Perry Township Home Demonstration Groups held during the summer at the Washingtonville Methodist Church, the following officers were elected: Mrs. Virgil Whinnery of Salem, president; Mrs. Edgar Somers of Leetonia, vice president; Mrs. Ivan Harrold of Leetonia, secretary; Mrs. Raymond E. Iklert of Leetonia, treasurer and Mrs. Norman Kornbau of Washingtonville, publicity chairman.

SUB Decision

lenged Tichenor's ruling in one lawsuit and Joseph Posey, a Youngstown steelworker, sued Tichenor in another.

The SUB contracts, union-negotiated with employers, are designed to augment state benefits so that jobless workers could receive about two-thirds of their take home pay. Maximum state benefits are $39 a week for 26 weeks for unemployed workers with families.

The SUB contracts cover about 270,000 of the 2,572,000 Ohio workers eligible for state benefits. The workers are mainly in steel, rubber, glass, automotive and electrical industries.

Gov. C. William O'Neill said about 40,000 workers are eligible to receive some 15 million dollars in retroactive SUB payments if the courts clear the way.

The payments come from funds built up by employer contributions of five cents for each hour an employee works. The money is not deducted from employee earnings.

Tichenor stated that under his ruling he is required to seek recovery of the difference between state-paid benefits and SUB payments made to individual workers. Failure to recover requires him to deduct such amounts from any future state benefits a worker might claim, unless his ruling is overturned by the Supreme Court. O'Neill has taken no official stand on the SUB question. He has proposed an extension of the state jobless benefit period from 26 to 39 weeks without increasing the weekly maximum payments. A special session of the Legislature later this month will be asked to approve the extension along with action on other matters.

Following the Supreme Court's decision, O'Neill said he still plans to call the special session, stating:

"I want to commend the Ohio Supreme Court for the very prompt way in which they have handled these cases. I'm glad to know the questions involved will be resolved on the merits by the court."

The group decided not to hold months. The first regular meeting in the fall will be Wednesday, Sept. 17.

Mrs. Raymond Leonard, Mrs. George Wire and Mrs. Ed Gotthardt visited Mrs. Everett Hall at Salem Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harris of Athens and Sylvia Schotsch of Youngstown were recent guests of Mrs. Jessie Cross of Somers St. evening.

MISS MARLENE KAYE Brooks is a member of the graduating class of Salter Secretarial School that will hold their commencement exercises at Worcester, Mass. this evening.

Miss Brooks is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Brooks of Lisbon Street and a graduate of the Leetonia High School.

The Ladies Catholic Benevolent Association will hold a benefit card party in the Knights of Columbus Hall Sunday at 8 p.m.

The public is invited.

The Leetonia Sportsman Association will hold its regular meeting this evening at 8 at the Sportsman Club House.

Final plans for the Homecoming will be made. All members are urged to attend.

MRS. VILLA BARNES of Cleveland has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Tillie McNulty for a week. Mr. and Mrs. George Meanor of Pittsburgh spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hoffman.

Lisbon Woman Jailed For Drunk Driving

LISBON — Mrs. Alice Hissom, 42, of RD 5, Lisbon was fined $500 and sentenced to six months in jail for drunk driving Wednesday by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp, who also revoked her driver's license for 30 days.

Judge Sharp suspended the fine, all but 15 days of the jail sentence and ordered her to pay $175.94 court costs.

Mrs. Hissom was found guilty of driving while intoxicated by a Common Pleas Court jury May 27. She filed a petition Monday for a new trial but withdrew the petition Wednesday and asked for leniency.

DAMASCUS — Seventy persons attended the covered dinner for members of the Ruritan Club and their families Wednesday evening at the Community Center.

The program consisted of demonstrations by the Volunteer Fire Department.

Young Killer Decides Life Worth Living

POINT OF THE MOUNTAIN, Utah (AP)—The young killer's hands twitched. His smile flickered nervously. He was asking for his life, and he lost.

Barton Kay Kirkham, who had sneered at the idea of mercy, asked for it Wednesday. The State Pardons Board listened to his plea for life imprisonment and mental treatment and rejected it.

Saturday the 21-year-old slayer is to be hanged. He is the first condemned man in Utah in 46 years to choose hanging for his execution instead of the firing squad.

He said he did so because the noose would bring more publicity and would cause the state more trouble.

For two years since he fatally shot a man in a grocery store holdup and fled with $50, Kirkham had assured fellow prisoners and anybody else who would listen, "I'm not afraid to die."

"I'm a loner," he told the board Wednesday.

Over and over, the board members asked him why he had killed, what he thought of dying, whether he felt remorse. Kirkham said: "No sir, no remorse or anything like that."

But then he launched into a disconnected, nervous plea for mercy. He said he'd rather die than spend his life in prison. But what he really wanted, he said, was confinement outside the prison for a life of psychiatric treatment.

The board said no.

Beaver Booster Club Will Meet Tuesday

The Boosters Club of Beaver Local High School will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the school, George Wilkinson will preside.

When the group met at the school recently, Jack O'Rourke, new head football coach of Beaver Local High School, explained the needs for the coming year and described the fundamentals of the game. He announced that the first practice will be Aug. 20 from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. with a two-hour recess. Coach O'Rourke is formerly of Washington Court House.

Jack Frongone, newly appointed athletic director of Beaver Local High School, explained his new duties. Also on the program was Arthur G. Carlson, athletic director of the new Junior High School at Beaver Local, which comprises the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades. The senior high school will be a four-year school for the first time in this system. Homer Bryan of Calcutta, vice president, presided at the session.

The former East Palestine man will be interred in Glenview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight.

Southern District Scouters Hold Meeting

LISBON — Scout Troop 29 sponsored by the Newell, W. Va., Lions Club played host to the southern district scout commissioners Wednesday night at the troop's camp site.

District Commissioner Frank Hancock presided at the after dinner meeting when reports of unit activities were heard. It was announced that 60 more summer camp openings are available for scouts in Columbiana Council during the weeks of June 29 and July 6. Reservations are to be mailed to the council office in Lisbon.

A report was given on the progress of the junior leader training course to be held at Camp McKinley June 20-22.

Units are asked to get their reservations in not later than June 14. Council camping and activities chairman Gene Seeley was presented with a token of appreciation for help he gave the staff in the past.

Summer Bible School Is Set In Leetonia

The annual summer Bible school will be held in Leetonia High School Monday through June 20.

It is being sponsored by the Leetonia Mennonite Church. Classes will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday evenings.

Fifteen classes have been planned for boys and girls from four years old through the eighth grade. John P. Oyer, associate pastor of the Leetonia Mennonite Church, will serve as superintendent, and Mrs. Joe Burkholder will be assistant superintendent.

Herald Press Bible School materials are being used for all classes. Eleven separate courses are being taught. Each one is designated for a specific age level. All stories and activities are directly related to the Bible lesson for the evening.

Last year 10 denominations were represented by the children attending the school. Everyone is welcome. Anyone in need of transportation may call Leetonia Hazel 7-2340 or Columbiana IVanhoe 2-4692.

"We felt the suction," said Melvin Hendrickson, 58, of Colfax. "The wind was twisting things in the basement. Rain was pouring down on us. The only thing I saw was our water heater standing in the middle of the basement. Everything else was whirling around."

Hendrickson, his wife and three children sat huddled together tightly in the basement as the storm smashed their home.

"I looked up and the house wasn't there," he said. "Wood pieces were flying at us. Then the twister was gone and it was just rain."

Forty persons were admitted to where a staff meeting convened just before the storm hit, found all 11 doctors on hand.

Other physicians were summoned here and to St. Joseph's Hospital at Chippewa Falls.

Seventeen injured remained at the Menomonie hospital, four of them in critical condition. Two of the more seriously hurt were transferred by ambulance to hospitals in Minnesota's Twin Cities, 75 miles west of Menomonie.

21 Treated, Released The other 21 were treated and released.

At Chippewa Falls, 55 were received with 26 still under treatment.

Scores of the homeless were taken into homes of relatives and neighbors.

Ambulances and police cars rushed whole blood to the hospitals from the Twin Cities.

The tornado smashed into Wisconsin after spawning two tornadoes across north central Minnesota. A score of farms were ravaged, hundreds of trees toppled and lake cottages damaged but there were reports of only minor casualties.

Guarding Your Health

Keep Poisons Away from Children

There are still far too many accidental deaths of children from swallowing poisons lying around the house. This is the reason I keep pounding away at the subject.

A colleague has recently written me that only the other day he received a pathetic letter from the father of a two-year-old child who was accidentally given oil of wintergreen instead of cough medicine. The child died.

Oil of wintergreen, which is a salicylate compound related to aspirin, is most commonly used in liniments designed for external application for the relief of minor pains and aches.

TOO OFTEN, however, it is not realized that such preparations are by no means harmless when swallowed. Indeed, there are approximately 15 deaths each year from accidental poisoning caused by oil of wintergreen and most of them are in young children.

But there is a move on hand now to have such preparations labeled POISON. But even if this is done the cooperation of parents and others is necessary.

One should be careful to keep such preparations — and all others which might cause trouble to children — in a medicine closet which is either locked or in a place which the child cannot reach.

There are also too many poisonings from other salicylate preparations — and many narrow escapes. It is apparently natural for small children to swallow what comes within reach, and therefore aspirin and things like it should be kept safely away.

THE LIST OF substances which can cause trouble to children is almost unlimited. Only this April one newspaper item came to my attention telling of a six-year-old boy who died several hours after he had swallowed a weed-killing preparation containing arsenic which had been placed in a soft drink bottle.

Surely this tragic event could have been avoided, but it also offers a lesson to all of us not to put weed killers, turpentine or any similar substance into a bottle which might be mistaken for something drinkable. Everything around should remain in its original container.

As soon as a child is old enough to understand instructions the danger of accidental poisoning decreases. But from about two years old, when a youngster becomes active, to five or six, most of them are not very responsible.

As most of us have discovered, the "no's" and "don'ts" we tell them often go in one ear and out the other.

Russell Company Names R. L. DeCosky

COLUMBIANA — Election of Richard L. DeCosky as a vice president of the F. C. Russell Co. was announced today by Frank C. Russell, president, following a board of directors meeting.

He will direct the manufacturing activities of the company.

Mr. DeCosky joined the F. C. Russell Company in 1952 as manager, manufacturing engineering, and subsequently became chief product engineer, assistant to the general works manager and then manager of the company's plant in Cambridge.

Prior to joining the F. C. Russell Company, Mr. DeCosky was with Bendix-Westinghouse in Elyria as plant layout engineer. During World War II he served in the Navy as an engineering officer, and before that was with the Chevrolet Division of General Motors in Detroit as tool designer. He is a graduate of University of Detroit with a degree in mechanical engineering.

City of Salem Sued As Result of Fall

A suit for $2,000 for injuries received in a fall on a sidewalk was filed against the City of Salem in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon on Wednesday by John Franklin Johnston, 53, of 313 S. Broadway.

Johnston claims in his petition that on Oct. 26, 1957 he fell and injured himself when he tripped over a hole in a sidewalk on the south side of W. State St. between Ellsworth and Howard avenues. He contends his hip was fractured, and he was confined to a hospital for three weeks.

He claims the city was negligent for failing to maintain sidewalks in good repair.

If you've been wondering what has happened to all of the Christmas cards that you gave Helen Fadely, you will find out by looking at the Home Savings & Loan Co. window today. When Helen publicly asked right after Christmas last year for you to send your cards to her, she hardly expected an avalanche, but that's what she got . . . and ever since the Y-Teens have been processing them to sell next Christmas for the Multiple Sclerosis Society.

Dr. and Mrs. F. R. Crowgey and Diane will sail from Montreal next week for England where they will visit with cousins of Dr. Crowgey's in Cornwall. Then they will go on to Stockholm, and while Diane and Mrs. Crowgey tour the city, Dr. Crowgey will attend the College of Surgeons for several days. Their itinerary also includes a trip up the Rhine by steamer, visits in Switzerland, Italy and Madrid . . . then back through France to fly home from Paris.

It was Mrs. Arthur Burton of Phoenix, Ariz., (the former Faye Hilliard) who told her mother, Mrs. Walter Hilliard of RD 3, Salem, about the book, "Your Biology," which was co-authored by Mrs. Ella Thea Cox, a former Salem teacher, now living at Cave-creek, Ariz.

Mrs. Robert Rheutan is program chairman of the first flower show sponsored by the Salem Garden Study Club which will be Monday from 2 to 9 p.m. at the Smucker House.

Members of the Junior Garden Club will also display arrangements for the theme, "Rhythm in Springtime." The public is invited . . . there is no charge, and tea and cookies will be served.

Indians' Four Runs in 10th Inning Trip Red Sox 7-5

Hoyt Wilhelm, Harrell Sparkle For Cleveland Bums' Stadium Site Okayed

BOSTON (AP)—The famine is over and maybe a feast will start now.

Anyway that's what the Cleveland Indians hoped today as they met the Boston Red Sox in the finale of a three-game set. The Tribe ended its four-game losing streak with a four-run burst in the 10th inning Wednesday, providing a 7-5 triumph.

Billy Harrell, who hit a two-run homer in the 10th, and Hoyt Wilhelm, the knuckleball relief artist, were the heroes for Cleveland.

Wilhelm, who came into the game in the sixth inning, pitched hitless ball until Ted Williams bat out an infield single in the 10th. Dick Hernert then smashed a home run above the left field wall, cutting Cleveland's apparently safe 7-3 margin by two runs.

Trailing 3-0 after five innings and headed for a fifth straight loss, the Indians nicked Boston's Frank Sullivan for a single run in the sixth frame.

Back-to-back doubles by Minnie Minoso and Mickey Vernon scored one more in the seventh. When Rocky Colavito ripped a single to

Los Angeles Votes to Give Land in Chavez Ravine to Dodgers

Bums' Stadium Site Okayed

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Walter O'Malley is still erect after the latest effort to yank the Southern California welcome mat from under his Dodgers. But his equilibrium may be submitted to still further tests.

City voters decided in a referendum election Tuesday to let O'Malley build a luxurious new stadium for his ball club in Chavez Ravine, a mile from the heart of downtown.

Latest returns today show 176,605 votes for and 159,028 against. This is with 2,350 precincts of 4,519 reported. The trend is not expected to change.

The results mean O'Malley may get his athletes out of their makeshift playground at Memorial Coliseum sometime during the 1959 season—if.

If the chubby baseball impresario from Brooklyn can vault a few more hurdles.

There are several lawsuits on file now. They all challenge the legality of the deal permitting the Dodgers to set up shop in Chavez Ravine.

One of the suits was filed in nearby Pasadena on behalf of taxpayer Louis Kirschbaum. He already has obtained a temporary court order restraining the city from transferring its Chavez Ravine acreage to the ball club. Superior Judge Kenneth C. Newell now must grant or refuse an application for a temporary injunction.

Kirschbaum claims the land cannot be conveyed to the Dodgers because there was a deed restriction on it when it was acquired from the City Housing Authority. The restriction provided that the land be used only for public purposes.

City Atty. Roger Arnebaugh was asked to comment on the gravity of the situation.

"It is our considered judgment," he said, "that the contract is legal in all its aspects. But these lawsuits may well cause some delay in the ultimate completion of the project.

"The contract (with the Dodgers) says that in the event we are unable to get the restriction removed or modified the contract will be of no further force or effect. We recognized that the deed restriction would have to be modified. Steps will now be taken to get it modified. It's a matter of working it out with the Housing Authority. They have already indicated they are sympathetic to the proposal that the Dodgers play there, in that it is a quasipublic purpose in itself—for the benefit of all the public."

Tim Tam Favorite In Belmont Stakes

NEW YORK (AP)—Tim Tam probably will be one of the shortest priced favorites in the history of the Belmont Stakes when he goes after a triple crown grand slam Saturday. But the Calumet Farm isn't forgetting what happened to Pensive in 1944.

With most of his Kentucky Derby and Preakness rivals scattered in search of easier pickings, it looks as if the Calumet colt will have about six opponents in the $100,000-added 3-year-old classic.

Early odds listed Tim Tam at 1 to 10 to capture his ninth straight race for Mrs. Gene Markey's Lexington, Ky., thoroughbred empire. In 1944, however, Calumet's Pensive missed a triple crown as the 1 to 2 favorite.

"You get a lot of rude awakenings in this business," said trainer Jimmy Jones, who finally announced he had decided to stick with jockey Ismael Valenzuela. Valenzuela was selected to ride Tim Tam after his regular booter, Bill Hartack, broke his leg a week before the Derby.

Only eight horses have won the coveted triple crown. The last was Calumet's Citation in 1948. Calumet also won the three big classics with Whirlaway in 1941.

Dodgers' Podres Hurls 3-Hit 3-0 Shutout Over Reds

5 Cincinnati Pitchers Fail to Halt Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — There were two things the Los Angeles Dodgers had today that they didn't have Wednesday—(1) Chavez Ravine, or a portion thereof, and (2) their first victory over Cincinnati's Redlegs—a three-hit 3-0 shutout.

At the moment at least, perhaps point No. 2 loomed more definite and sweet: certainly, there was a feeling that with more of the likes of Johnny Podres' virtually airtight hurling, the Dodgers might eventually rise from the cellar.

Akins Slight Favorite To Defeat Martinez

ST. LOUIS (P) — Whether a slugger or a boxer will wear the welterweight champion's crown will be decided Friday night.

The contenders are Virgil Honeybear Akins of St. Louis, who likes to win by bombing his victims to the deck, and Vince Martinez of Paterson, N.J., who is an exponent of fancy work and has admitted that back pedaling has hurt him in fights. But he does outnumber Akins in knockouts, 31-27.

Even so, Akins is considered one of the heaviest hitters in the welterweight field.

Akins' manager, Eddie Yawitz, a St. Louis druggist, says his boy will end it within nine rounds.

The prediction in Martinez' camp is that Vince will win with a decision or "by a knockout if he gets the right shot," says Manager Bill Daly said.

Akins is a slight favorite over Martinez for the 147-pound title vacated by Carmen Basilio. Carmen will be a spectator at the fight and may challenge the winner. Basilio vacated the title, then won and lost the middleweight crown to Sugar Ray Robinson.

Chicago Beats First-Place New York 7-2

By The Associated Press

What more can happen to the Detroit Tigers? Now they may have lost Harvey Kuenn, their leading hitter, for a spell and they've plunked back into the American League cellar.

Kuenn's injury and the dip to eighth place came in the same instant Wednesday night. The onetime all-star shortstop who has switched successfully to center field this season suffered severe gashes near his right eye when he crashed into the wire fence in Baltimore on a futile try for a two-run homer by Gus Triandos that gave the Orioles a 6-4 victory.

Kuenn, 27, leading the injury-hobbled Tigers with a .341 batting average, underwent plastic surgery. His eye appeared to escape injury, but a doctor declined to say whether he would be able to play tonight.

The Chicago White Sox, meanwhile, ended their scoreless no-nonsense and beat the New York Yankees 7-2. Second-place Kansas City, 7½ games behind the Yankees, defeated Washington 5-4, and Cleveland beat Boston 7-5 in 10 innings.

In the National League, Milwaukee gained a one-game lead over San Francisco by beating the Giants 10-9 in 11 innings. Los Angeles beat Cincinnati 3-0 on Johnny Podres' three-hitter. St. Louis defeated Pittsburgh 6-3 and the Chicago Cubs walloped Philadelphia 11-5, with Ernie Banks hitting his 15th and 16th home runs, tops in the majors.

Southpaw Billy Pierce pitched a five-hitter against the Yankees and fanned six to wrest the strikeout lead from New York's Bob Turley, 55 to 53. Pierce also doubled in a two-run third against loser Tom Sturdivant (1-3) that ended a string of 32 scoreless innings for the White Sox, who had not had a hit in the last nine.

Yogi Berra and Mickey Mantle homered, the seventh for each, for the Yankees, while Don Mueller's two-run pinch single cracked a 2-2 tie in the seventh.

Mike Baxes had four singles in four trips and drove in the last two-run homer, three singles, a ton. Jack Urban won his fifth, with relief help, while winless Al Cicotte lost his third.

The Indians ended their losing string, at four, overhauling a 3-0 Boston lead and then counting four in the 10th on Billy Harrell's two-run homer, three singles, a wild pitch and an error. Hoyt Wilhelm won his second in relief, although giving up a two-run homer to Dick Gernert in the 10th. Dave Sisler (4-2) lost it in relief.

BIRDS OF A FEATHER — Herb Score, Cleveland Indian southpaw pitcher who has been inactive since April 30, shows his ailing left arm to Baltimore Oriole rookie right-hander Milt Pappas, in Baltimore, June 2. Scores injury has been diagnosed as an inflamed tendon. Pappas, whose arm has been paining for several weeks, had the same diagnosis made of his pitching arm when the two were examined June 2 by Dr. George Bennett.

Braves Defeat Giants 10-9; Phillies Bombed by Cubs 11-5

By The Associated Press

Things haven't looked this good for the Los Angeles Dodgers in a long, long time. They've gained voter approval for the Chavez Ravine deal, Johnny Podres has junked his four-game slump with a three-hit shutout and those crowd-collecting Milwaukee Braves are coming to town.

The Dodgers are still in the cellar, but it's only a 4½-game spread to third place after Wednesday night's 3-0 job on Cincinnati. It was the first shutout of the year for Podres, who led the majors with six last season.

The Braves, again drawing a near-capacity crowd, moved into a one-game lead over second-place San Francisco by beating the Giants 10-9 in 11 innings. St. Louis whipped Pittsburgh 6-3 and gained a virtual tie for fourth place with Chicago. The Cubs bombed Philadelphia again 11-5 with Ernie Banks belting his 15th and 16th homers, high in the majors.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox beat New York 7-2. Second-place Kansas City beat Washington 5-4. Cleveland defeated Boston 7-5 in 10 and Baltimore clipped Detroit 6-4.

Charley Neal drove in two Dodgers runs with a 420-foot triple to center and a solo homer that cleared the nearby left field screen at the foul pole. Podres, now 5-4, breezed, twice retiring 11 in a row and no-hitting the Redlegs over the last 4 1-3 innings. He struck out seven and walked two.

Johnny Klippstein (2-2) lost it. A pinch-hit single by pitcher Warren Spahn clinched it for the Braves off losing reliever Stu Miller (1-3). Down 7-1 after three, they tied it 7-1 in the ninth as Wes Covington belted a three-run homer on the first pitch from reliever Pete Burnside — who was sold to Phoenix a few hours later.

The two clubs swapped two-run spurts in the 10th. The Giants got theirs after two were out on consecutive pinch homers by Hank Sauer and Bob Schmidt off winning reliever Ernie Johnson (2-0).

Stan Musial hit his 10th homer and Ken Boyer rapped a two-run, inside-the-park homer for the Cards against Ron Kline (6-5). Jim Brosnan (6-4) won his third straight, with relief help, since coming to the Cards from the Cubs May 20. He gave seven hits, three by Frank Thomas, who hit his 14th home run.

Both of Banks' home runs came with a man on for the Cubs, his second as inside-the-ark belt as the Phils' Richie Ashburn crashed into the center field wall. Moe Drabowsky won his third with a 10-hitter, including two-run homers by Solly Hemus and Rip Repulski, while Robis Roberts lost his sixth in 11 decisions.

Sarazen Picks Youths To Win National Open

NEW YORK (AP) — Ageless Gene Sarazen likes a three-way youth parlay in the National Open Golf Tournament next week—Arnold Palmer, Ken Venturi and Billy Casper.

"I'd have to pick them 1-2-3 and let you choose the order," the 56-year-old golfing squire said today, taking a brief respite from his upstate cattle farm. "If I had to choose a fourth man it would be Jimmy Demaret."

"But I can't see it as a year for the Old Guard—Ben Hogan, Sam Snead or Demaret. They're nearing 50 and that means their knees are beginning to buckle."

Fireside Scores 8 In 6th Frame To Blast Tolson 10-3

Furnace Beats Deming's 5-1

Stepanic's Stomped By Old Dutch 10-4

Fireside Inn smothered Tolson 10-3. Electric Furnace defeated Deming's 5-1 and Old Dutch stomped Stepanic's 10-4 in softball contests Wednesday night at Kelley Park.

Bill Buckman kept Old Dutch undefeated with his fifth win in succession.

The winners scored five times in the fifth to put the contest on ice. Charlie Klan was the winner's big stickman, collecting a home run and two triples.

Bob Ferguson had three hits for the winners, and Charlie Blue had two.

For the losers, Ed Bozich and Butch Manfull each collected a pair of hits.

Glenn Mercer suffered his first loss after four straight decisions.

Eight runs in the bottom of the sixth paved the way for Fireside's verdict over Tolson.

Corky Wyss had two hits for the winners. Ron Wyss got the win, while Al Spack suffered the setback.

Furnace pushed across a pair of tallies in each of the fifth and sixth frames to score its win over Deming's.

Bill Shuster rapped out two safeties for the victors. Ray Patterson was the winning hurler and Al Lewis the loser.

Bliss Defeats Eljer In Class E Contest

A 13-hit barrage, triggered by three hits each from Harshman, Philis and Dermatto, carried Bliss to a 14-0 win over Eljer in a Class E game played at Centennial Park Wednesday night.

The losers managed but one hit, that by Enemark. The winners wrapped up the decision with a six-run outburst in the second inning. Eljer had five errors.

Joe Miceli Registers KO Over Fullmer

WEST JORDAN, Utah (AP) — Veteran Joe Miceli gave young welterweight Jay Fullmer a rude welcome to big-time boxing Wednesday night, scoring an automatic third-round knockout.

Miceli weighed 147 to Fullmer's 140. It was the first time former middleweight champion Gene Fullmer's 21-year-old brother had lost in his professional starts.

Fullmer was wary of Miceli's left hook from the start of the nationally televised bout. He had reason to be. The 29-year-old New Yorker, a veteran of 96 professional fights, calmly waded into Fullmer's brief rushes in the first two rounds, watching for an opening.

He found it in the third and belted Fullmer into the ropes with a vicious left hook. Fullmer didn't actually hit the deck as he floundered for his footing, but Referee Ken Shulsen counted it as a knockdown and waved Miceli away.

Fullmer came right back into another left that sent him to the canvas in a slow sag.

As the young West Jordan boy got up, glassy-eyed, he waded into a left uppercut that sent him sprawling.

Under Utah boxing rules the third knockdown in a round calls for an automatic knockout. The time was 2:09 of the third.

Fullmer was ahead on points, 28-26, when Miceli finished him off.

Pitching (based on 5 or more decisions)—McMahon, Milwaukee, 5-0, 1,000; Spahn, Milwaukee, 3-1, 889; Parkey, Cincinnati, 6-1, 857. Strikeouts—Jones, St. Louis, 53; Podres, Los Angeles, 48; Gomez and Antonelli, San Francisco, 47.

Petrucchi's Rips KC; Brown-Ziegler Wins

Two football-like scores featured a pair of games played in the Class G League at Centennial Park last night as Brown-Ziegler clobbered Johnny's Service 25-8 and Petrucci's buried KC 23-7.

Brown-Ziegler scored 11 times in each of the first and third innings in a game that went only three frames. Dick Wilt knocked in seven runs for the winners on a homerun, double and single. Other circuit smashes were hit by Ray Beech and Don Adams of the winners.

Neal Csepke was the winner and John Steele the loser.

Petrucchi's scored in every inning out the fifth in their win over the KC. They notched seven tallies in the second and eight in the sixth to nail the verdict.

Wayne Washington blasted a pair of home runs for the winners while Butch Christofers and Bill Taus hit for the circuit for the losers.

George Begalla was the winning pitcher.

Canfield Auction, Sebring Times Win

Canfield Auction beat Purity Dairy 9-6 and Sebring Times whipped Beloit 11-8 in two Sebring-Damascus Junior Baseball League games staged Wednesday night.

Schwartzhoff had four hits for Sebring, while Mizeneir and Peters had two each for the Beloit team.

Six errors by Beloit in the third inning enabled the winners to score five times and take a 5-2 lead they never relinquished. O'Donnell was the winning pitcher and Maris the loser.

Goodrich led Canfield over Purity with a triple and two doubles while Kirksey had two raps for the losers.

Canfield sealed the game with a five-run surge in the fifth inning. Zeppernick was the loser while Ramsey and Goodrich shared in Canfield's win.

Home runs—Banks, Chicago 16; Walls, Chicago, and Thomas, Pittsburgh, 14.

Stolen bases—Mays, San Francisco, 9; T. Taylor, Chicago and Ashburn, Philadelphia, 8.

Village To Lease New Municipal Dump Location Beginning July 1

COLUMBIANA — Village Council acted Tuesday night to lease a new municipal dump site to replace the overflowing location on the Salem St. Ext.

The panel authorized a lease agreement on a strip mine cut site on Kelley Park Rd., near the intersection of Kelly Park Rd. with the Leetonia-Columbiana Road (Route 34).

Owner of the property is Ben Weingart. The lease is set up at $200 per year beginning July 1. The present dump has been in use for some 25 years. It was purchased by the village about 16 years ago after being leased for some time. Harvey Ferrall, employed by the village as caretaker of the W. Salem St. dump, will continue in that position at the new location.

IN OTHER BUSINESS, council adopted a resolution calling to the attention of district congressmen the "deteriorating" plight of the railroads and asking careful consideration of a Senate bill offering some relief to the carriers.

The legislators authorized the solicitor to prepare a resolution advertising for bids on a new fire truck for the volunteer department.

Mayor E. L. Calvin submitted his monthly report showing $1,005.85 in cash handled by his office during May and listing 30 Mayor's Court cases, including 23 State Highway Patrol hearings, five village arrests, and two liquor law violation hearings.

The village treasury received $486.23 for the month from court fines, forfeitures and costs. Remainder of the $1,005 was paid to state and county treasuries as their shares of local cases.

THERE WILL be a Knights of Pythias county meeting at 8 tonight in the Columbiana lodge hall. Members of all Columbiana K. of P. lodges are invited, according to George Cannon, local secretary.

Columbiana Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, will observe "Men's Night" at its session Tuesday evening. A program will follow the business meeting. Lunch will be served in Masonic style. All men members of the order are invited.

Mrs. Helen Laughlin has charge of the lunch committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Douglas are the parents of a daughter born in the Salem City Hospital recently.

Miss Alice Gaston is confined to her home with the measles. House guests in the Karl Theiss home are Mrs. Theiss' two sisters from Florida.

About 80 attended the father-son banquet held Tuesday evening in the local Lutheran Church. A dinner was served by the Daughters of the King.

Miss Carol Fisher has returned to Washington, D.C. after spending the holiday weekend in the Fisher home on Middle St.

Mrs. Minnie Esenwein and daughter Camille spent several days this week in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Mother Wins Dispute Over Radar Traps

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—You can carry signs in Dayton warning motorists of a radar speed zone ahead and it won't be considered interfering with the duties of officers, Dayton officials have decided.

The decision was a victory for a 22-year-old Dayton mother of two who thinks radar traps are sneaky. She was arrested May 22 for carrying such a sign.

But when the woman, Mrs. Marjorie Steinway, appeared in Municipal Court Wednesday to face the interference charges she was met by the city prosecutor, William P. Keane, who handed her a formal release and a $1 bill.

The release read in part: "I, Marjorie Steinway, for $1 and other valuable considerations, do hereby release and fully discharge all members of the Dayton police department from all action and claims growing out of my arrest."

Police said the woman had been found ahead of their radar zone carrying a sign saying "Speed trap ahead." They cited her for interfering.

Capt. C. W. Martz, head of the traffic section, said, however, he felt Mrs. Steinway was actually aiding police. All police want to do is slow down speeders, not arrest them, he asserted.

With her at school in Lafayette, Ind., is her husband and pharmacy classmate, John R. Emerson of Owensville, Ind., who missed her mark by one "B" grade. Such a scholastic achievement by a married couple may be unparalleled.

New Explorer Scout Program Is Planned

A new Explorer Scout program will be launched by the Boy Scouts of America in November, Calvin Filler of Salem, Columbiana Council commissioner, reported today.

The program will be based on the results of a recent survey which showed that today's teenagers, concerned with attaining maturity and achieving success, want more information about vocations and their requirements.

The Boy Scouts of America will soon issue a revised exploring handbook which will serve as a complete guide to the new program, Mr. Filler said.

Columbiana Council has 11 Explorer Scout units and 372 Explorers, Mr. Filler reports.

IS HISTORY REPEATING?

France 1958, Spain '36: A Parallel

By WARD CANNEL

NEW YORK — (NEA) — "Colonial military leaders in North Africa have revolted against the Republic. Insurgents have spread across the Mediterranean Sea to the nation itself where street fighting erupts in sudden, vicious bursts. Every man must choose sides between the two governments now running his country..."

This dispatch could be written about France today. It was, however, written 22 years ago — at the outbreak of the Spanish Civil War.

The parallels between these two rebellions are ominously close. Only a political assassination keeps the Fourth French Republic — so far — from mirroring the Second Spanish Republic.

The murdered Spaniard was Right Wing leader Calvo Sotelo, killed on July 13, 1936, to avenge the death of a Republican police officer the week before.

FOUR DAYS LATER, the Spanish Foreign Legion in Morocco — a neighbor of Algeria — rose against the Republic under the leadership of 44-year-old Gen. Francisco Franco.

The Spanish army and half of the navy fell into line behind Franco's Fascists, leaving the air force and the remaining navy to defend the Republic's loyalists.

Within two days the insurgents had sailed across the Mediterranean Sea and bloody street fighting, purges and reprisals erupted in the streets of Madrid as rebel sympathizers joined forces with their leaders from North Africa to battle the government.

Civilians were mobilized and armed and Spain was in the clutches of a civil war that would last almost two years.

BEHIND THE REVOLT were the same problems that plague France today: dissatisfaction with the elected government; weariness with the responsibilities of a republican government by a nation that had been a monarchy for centuries; the appealing bargain of a strong leader who would make decisions quickly and efficiently and ask only obedience.

The Second Spanish Republic (the first lasted only the two years from 1873 to 1875) was born in 1931, sending King Alfonso XIII and Queen Victoria into exile.

According to the constitution, church and state were separated with church property being confiscated. Education became secular and free. Large estates were divided among peasants. In 1936 a new election brought in the left wing Popular Front government. Now the political lines were clearly drawn: Spain had achieved a left and a right wing; and for Europe it became a test tube.

FASCIST ITALY poured troops and airpower into Gen. Franco's camp. Germany gave military advice in addition. The Loyalists, on the other hand, received aid from Communist Russia and an International Brigade made up of young idealists from all over the world.

What Spain paid for with hundreds of thousands dead was a military classroom in the field for modern nations to learn modern war.

By New Year's Day of 1939 the Loyalists were huddled in two starving camps on the southern coast of Spain, isolated by the Fascist lines. Ten days later, Barcelona fell and with it the Republican capital. On March 29 the war was declared over. And 10 hours later the U.S. formally accorded recognition to Gen. Franco's government.

What lessons have military experts learned about civil war from Spain? That a civilian militia has almost no chance against a mechanized army — unless outside nations with something to gain step in to help.

Revolutionary Device Will Be Used To Probe Far Corners of Universe

Radio Telescope Being Built in Ohio

By JOHN PASCAL

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—Each morning, workmen inch their cars along a narrow, rocky back road, past signs that read "Keep out" and "Restricted Area," until they reach a huge clearing surrounded on all sides by thick woodland.

There they resume work on a towering copper and steel structure that some day may, with others like it:

Tell us whether there actually is a definite, physical limit to the size of the universe.

Receive radio messages from earthmen traveling through outer space.

Give man a clearer, more precise picture of the universe than any other device has given him before.

The structure is Ohio State University's revolutionary radio telescope. When it is completed, probably in late 1959 or early 1960, it will be the second largest radio telescope in the world, the largest in America, and the first to depart from the conventional, and much more expensive, dish-shape design.

Designed by Robert Natt.

It was designed by Robert T. Natt, a young instructor of electrical engineering at Ohio State, and its construction is under the supervision of Dr. John D. Kraus, director of the Ohio State University radio observatory.

Rising on a 20-acre site just south of here donated by Ohio Wesleyan University, the enormous mechanism will, in its entirety, have a surface area almost the size of two football fields. Another three gridirons probably could fit between the telescope's two largest sections.

Upon its completion, the section now under construction will be 70 feet high and 360 feet wide. Across the field, a section 100 feet high and 360 feet wide will be built. A third component, perhaps 10 feet by 15 feet, will go up at a strategic point somewhere in between.

The largest section, Dr. Kraus said, will be a tiltable reflector capable of sweeping the skies at different angles. It will catch radio signals from other celestial bodies in a wide range of wavelengths, and bounce them 50 feet across the field to the other huge section, a fixed, parabolic (slightly curved) reflector. The parabolic reflector will, in turn, direct the radio waves to a single focal point housed in the smaller structure where antennae and other receiving equipment will catch and record them.

To Cost About $250,000

When the whole thing is completed, Dr. Kraus said, its total cost will have been about $250,000. The national science foundation has already provided grants totaling $106,600, and Ohio State has donated something more than $19,000.

Dr. Kraus said the only larger radio telescope in existence is a 250-foot diameter conventional dish-type telescope in Manchester, England. Its surface area is only about a third greater than Ohio State's telescope, Dr. Kraus said, and yet its cost ran into the millions.

Just what will the radio telescope do?

"It's a little hard to predict," says Dr. Kraus. "We've made great progress in the past few years, but it's still a new science. We're about in the same stage of advancement now as the optical astronomers were just after Galileo invented the optical telescope. For one thing, though, radio telescopes can penetrate deeper into space than the largest optical telescope, so we'll be able to get more detailed and accurate maps of the radio sky. The sky we 'see' with radio waves is much different from the visual sky. We'll be able to learn more about the planets in our solar system, and more about interplanetary matters."

Dr. Kraus said smaller radio telescopes already in use have picked up radio waves from a galaxy known as "Cygnus A," 200 million light years away.

"The waves we're receiving from it this very moment left the galaxy 200 million years ago, 190 million years before the first form of life stirred on the earth."

To Test Current Theory

A radio telescope's ability to reach across in comprehensible stretches of space may some day be used to test a current theory of the universe.

"The theory holds that the universe was once a relatively smaller, denser mass, and that it is continually expanding in a special pattern," Dr. Kraus said. "If that's true, then in some point in space, there is an edge to the universe. If there is, this, or perhaps a much larger radio telescope, may be able to tell us."

The Easy Way Out

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—If America two of mankind's greatest pleasures—bacon and bourbon. One buttonhole, why not make it the dandelion?

Congress is periodically petitioned to name an official U.S. flower, but so far has ducked a vote. This issue could cause a lot of statesmanlike heads to roll—like petals at the first frost.

Garden lovers are a passionate folk. Knock their favorite flower, and it's worse than kicking their dog around. The angry sap rises in them. The wise politician realizes that picking a national flower could easily lead to a floral war between the states.

Right now there are two lobbies besieging Congress—some ladies from Atlanta, ardent advocates of the rose; a Midwest contingent which thinks the corn tassel should be the tossing symbol of our land.

The rose lovers, of course, are strictly traditionalists and are the kind of people who pick the New York Yankees every year to win the American League pennant.

Against them is the opinion of many that the rose is a garden snob and not democratic enough to represent America.

The corn tassel crowd claims that the corn tassel is as American as Pocahontas, and, furthermore, is the bright harbinger of

Coast Guard Takes Charge Of Golden Rule

HONOLULU (AP)—Coast Guardsmen stopped pacifists from sailing the ketch Golden Rule toward the Atomic Energy Commission's test area again Wednesday—this time on the high seas.

Albert Smith Bigelow, Cos Cob, Conn., the Golden Rule's skipper, was arrested before the ketch sailed on a charge that he conspired to violate a federal court injunction against the sailing.

William Huntington, St. James, Long Island, N. Y., returned to Honolulu, providing a navigator just in time to get the 30-foot vessel under way.

George Willoughby, Blackwood Terrace, N.J., one of the crew, said the ketch was well outside the three-mile territorial limit when the Coast Guard caught up. Huntington was arrested on the return to Honolulu.

A previous attempt to sail was made May 1. That resulted in Judge Jon Wiig finding the crew guilty of violating his injunction against the trip. He gave them suspended sentences and put them on probation for a year that time.

Other crewmen are Orion Sherwood, Poughkeepsie, N.Y., and James Peck, New York City. Bigelow, Huntington and Willoughby are Quakers. Sherwood is a Methodist. Peck says he is a non-religious pacifist.

Mrs. Harold Stoffer welcomed her associates in the Card - Ette Club Thursday.

Bridge was played and Mrs. Merle Maxwell, Mrs. Robert Eckert and Mrs. John Mardis won score awards. Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mr. Robert Scott. The next meeting will be held June 12 with Mrs. John Beidler of 755 South Seneca Ave., Alliance.

Relatives and friends from here called on W. C. Anthony of Alliance to help celebrate his 85th birthday May 30.

Dick Gergee has returned home from the Alliance City Hospital. Judith McLaughlin, Teresa Pandin, Ruth Ann Stump, Sarah Mc-

Garrah, John Kerr and Robert Sponseller were graduated at Sebring McKinley High School recently.

THEIR HUSBANDS were guests of the Hi-Fi Club members at their meeting held at the home of Mrs. William Eggle.

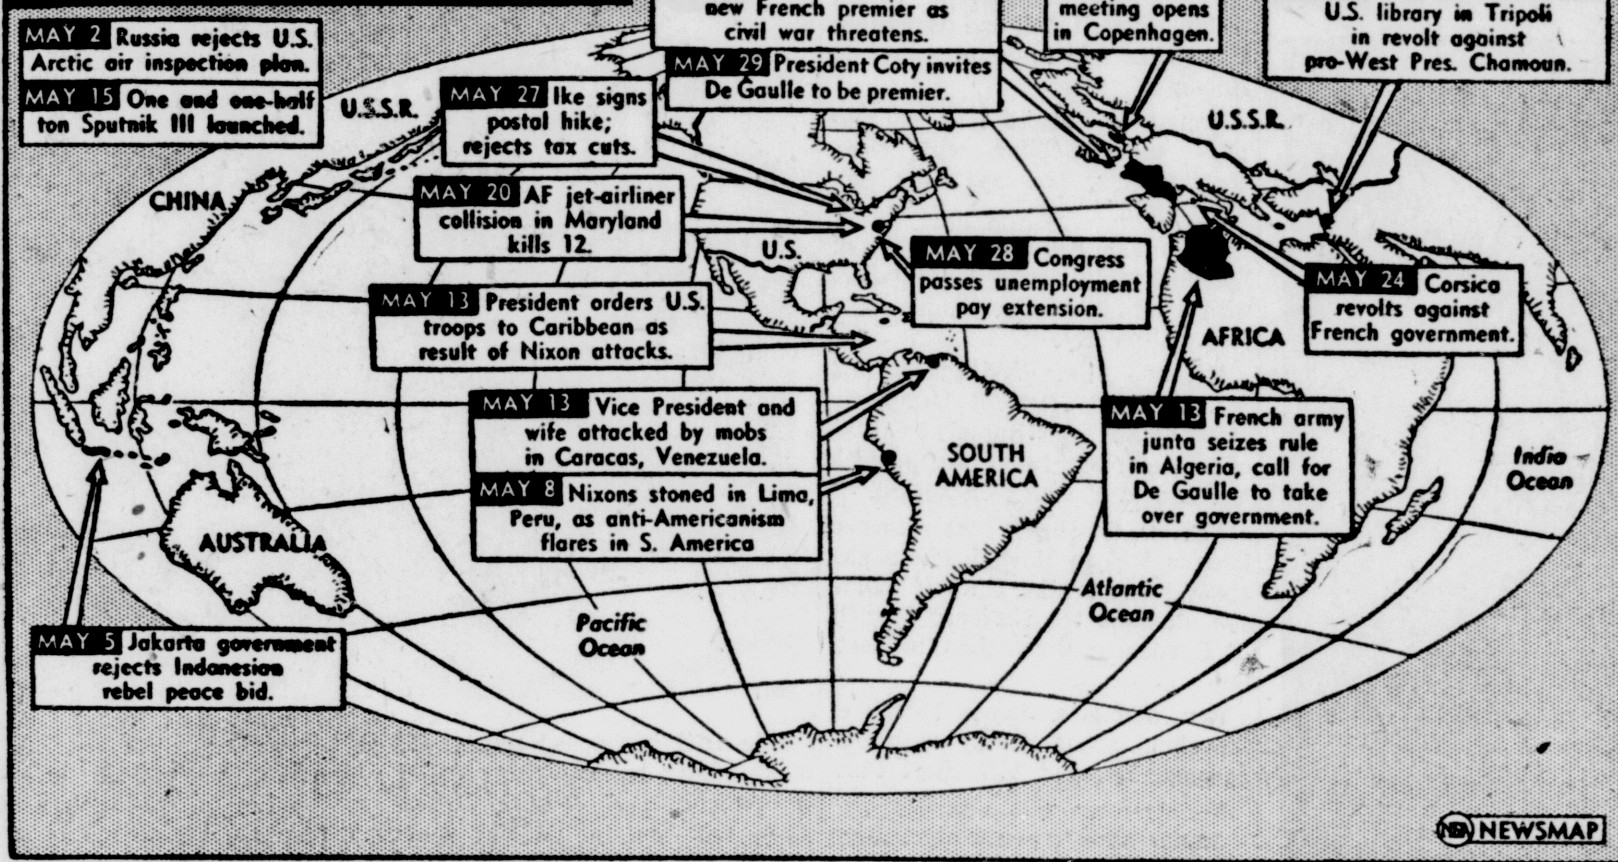

Mrs. Ronald Wagner was co-hostess and "500" was played. Refreshments were served.

Steven Brumbaugh has been discharged from Alliance City Hospital.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Kiel at Alliance City Hospital recently.

The Community Vacation Bible School opened Monday and will run through June 13 from 9 to 11:30 a.m. in the Presbyterian Church.

LAST MONTH - IN HISTORY

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

Without an early warning radar system of his own, President Eisenhower never can hope to search out and wipe out all those behind the scenes White House feuds which inevitably break into the open and do such harm to this nation's global public relations.

During the past three such duels has been fought between Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and White House political strategists. It's a battle over Mr. Labor himself, AFL-CIO president George Meany. White House politicians want to fire Mr. Meany from the U.S. Delegation to the United Nations. Mr. Dulles does not. Neither does our UN Ambassador, Henry Cabot Lodge.

Mr. Meany is the only Western labor chief now active in world diplomatic circles. His appointment to the U.N. by a Republican president was hailed — and I used that corny word advisedly — by leaders of millions of free working men throughout the world. Some of these men are in unions which keep our vital life — food and fuel — lines and atomic bases in working order across Europe, Asia and Africa.

IN A SERIES of fiery talks in and out of the U.N., Mr. Meany has hit the Russians harder than any other single man. They loathe him for this, for no matter how they attack him, he is the leader and spokesman of 14 million American working people. Soviet propagandists have a hard time trying to pin a "capitalist plot" label on Meany.

In the past, the Russians were the only world force which used the tactic of naming their highest labor chiefs to diplomatic posts. Such a man is V. V. Kuznetsov, the former Tool hand at Ford Motor Co. and Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp. Comrade Kuznetsov, who worked in this land before he returned to Russia to head their labor federation, now is first deputy foreign minister.

He has been in the U.S. pouring tea and sympathetic words at the Soviet Embassy for some labor leaders in an effort to get them to agree to exchange U.S. and U.S.S.R. labor delegations. This would be a great propaganda victory for Comrade Kuznetsov. But Mr. Meany has blocked this effort.

Thus it was expected that there would be little more than routine approval for Meany's reappointment to the U. N. delegation for the fall sessions of the General Assembly. Some weeks ago, the State Department sent to the White House its list of names — including George Meany.

WHEN THE LIST returned to the State Department Meany's name was missing. Emissaries of Dulles and Lodge asked why. They were told that it was hardly good political strategy to appoint a man who would be a tough opponent in coming elections. Reports are that Henry Cabot Lodge spoke to more than himself and in un-Bostonian language.

From the State Department's viewpoint there could not have been a more poorly chosen moment for cutting Meany from the delegation.

The leader of American labor soon will sail for Europe. There he first will go to Geneva for a meeting of all world labor government and industry leaders at the International Labor Office. This is a global organization — and Communist nations are represented.

If Meany arrives shortly after being dropped from the U.N. delegation, the Communists will pour it on — on President Eisenhower, that is. The Soviets will say that a "capitalist" government dumped Meany because he is a labor leader.

FROM GENEVA, Meany goes on to Brussels for the meeting of leaders of the free labor movement of the world — the men who head the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions. It speaks for over 70 million workers. Removing Meany from the U.N. delegation will make the U.S. no friends in this vital group.

And their support is vital. Just how vital can be learned, for example, from a broadcast beamed in English from Moscow to the U.S. at 11:30 p.m. on May 20.

The short wave talk revealed that Moscow's own global federation of trade unions was scheduling a massive anti-American "Anti-Atom War Convention of Trade Unions and Working People of European Countries" in East Berlin for June 20. Its propaganda will be skillful. It can be countered effectively only by our own labor friends abroad.

They aren't exactly going to be whipped into a pro-American frenzy by the news that their friend and colleague, George

ONLY S. P. D.

Has Coated Grains Will Form a Soft Soap Works As Root Killer

Most drain openers are made with chemicals that can cause immediate injury to the skin. In S. P. D., the caustic grains are all coated with a film of pine oil. This coating prevents caustic action until S. P. D. is dissolved in water; it does not hinder the effectiveness in the drain.

Drain openers made with caustic soda will convert grease into a hard-to-dissolve soap. The caustic potash used in S. P. D. is a more expensive ingredient, but it makes an important difference. S. P. D. changes grease to soft soap that dissolves and flushes away so much more easily.

Far beyond the traps in the drain, S. P. D. does another important job. The roots of trees and shrubs that may penetrate into tile or iron pipes are killed by S. P. D. Regular use of this super-duty drain opener dissolves dead roots and inhibits growth of new ones...

Try Barbecued Meat Balls

Bite-sized barbecued meat balls make festive hot appetizers before an outdoor meal — easy to prepare, too. Simply put tiny meat balls on skewers or a long handled fork and cook over your charcoal grill. Have a tangy barbecue sauce ready for dunking and toothpicks for individual service.

Barbecued Meat Balls
(Makes 35-40)

One pound ground-beef, 1/2 pound ground pork or ground mild pork sausage meat, 1 egg, 1 package old-fashioned French salad dressing mix, 1 tablespoon chopped green pepper, 2 teaspoons chopped parsley, 1 tablespoon chopped onion, 3 tablespoons dry bread crumbs. Combine ingredients and mix well. Form mixture into small meat balls — about one inch in diameter. Place meat balls on skewers and grill 10 minutes. Serve as appetizers with herb sauce.

Note: Meat balls may also be broiled 10 minutes on rotisserie rack placed in lowest position, or browned and cooked in a skillet.

Herb Sauce (Makes 1 1/2 cups)
Three teaspoons old-fashioned garlic salad dressing mix, 1 1/2 cups chili sauce. Combine salad dressing mix and chili sauce, mixing well. Serve with barbecued meat balls.

Baked Fish

Pescado a la Espanola (Baked Fish, Spanish Style)
(Yield: 6 servings)

Wash and dry 6 slices (1 1/4 pounds) sea bass or other white meat fish. Combine 1 1/4 teaspoons salt, 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper, 1/4 teaspoon ground cayenne pepper, 1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg and 1/4 teaspoon ground basil leaves.

Sprinkle over both sides of fish. Pour 1 tablespoon olive or salad oil in a 7x11x2-inch baking dish. Spread 1 onion, thinly sliced, and 1 1/2 tablespoons coarsely chopped pimientos or red peppers in dish. Place fish over onions and top each slice with one anchovy fillet.

Cover each with a slice of tomato. Spread one cup thinly sliced mushrooms over all. Dot with 1 tablespoon butter or margarine. Cover.

Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 20 minutes. Uncover. Sprinkle 1/4 cup buttered soft bread crumbs over top. Bake 20 minutes longer or until crumbs are lightly browned. Serve with crusty bread.

Sandwiches to serve on the porch or patio should include at least one meatless kind.

Cucumber and Cream Cheese Sandwiches (Yield: 36 sandwiches)

Cut thinly-sliced, close-textured bread (18 slices) into rounds with 2-inch biscuit cutter. Mix 2 packages (3 ounces each) softened cream cheese with 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1-16 teaspoon garlic powder, 1-16 teaspoon ground white pepper, 2 teaspoons milk and 2 teaspoons fresh lemon juice. Spread a thin layer over each round of bread. Score unspealed cucumbers with a fork. Cut into slices 1-16 inch thick. Make a slit on each almost to the center. Twist and stand one on each sandwich.

Crisp Bar Cookies Are Lunchbox Favorite

Whether it's an old fashioned family "receipt" or a modern quick-mix formula, a good cookie recipe is always welcome.

Here's a recipe for delicious pasty-like cookies, Golden Nut Bars, that are at home in the school lunch box or on the most elegant tea table.

2-3 cup vegetable shortening, 1 cup dark brown sugar, firmly packed, 1 egg, 2 cups sifted flour, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-6 teaspoon salt.

Topping
1 egg, 1/2 cup dark brown sugar, firmly packed, 3/4 cup chopped nuts or sesame seeds.

Cream shortening and 1 cup of brown sugar together. Add 1 egg; beat until light and fluffy. Sift together flour, cinnamon and salt; add gradually, mixing well and kneading until smooth.

Press dough evenly over a well-greased shallow pan, about 11" x 16" x 1/2". Beat remaining egg and spread, or brush, over top of cookie dough. Sprinkle with remaining 1/2 cup brown sugar and top with chopped nuts or sesame seeds.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until top is crusty and golden brown, about 20 to 25 minutes.

Cut into rectangles while still warm. Remove from pan with spatula and cool on cake rack.

who paint their fences, smart home owners have found that staining them to preserve the native coloring of wood cuts down considerably on refinishing. And if a homeowner appreciates the pure beauty of natural, weathered wood and wants the bonus of no upkeep at all, the best and most modern idea is to let time and temper paint the fence in their own inimitable style.

TWO DESIGNS can also be successfully worked together—sections of coral fencing alternating with sections of vertical offset boards, for example. Although there are many folks along the fence line, these can be incorporated into the integral design by constructing the fence around them.

As a means of breaking the straight lines of a long fence, it can be set in a sawtooth line; or if there is not enough space to do this, alternating panels of vertical offset boards with panels of horizontal offset boards accomplishes the objective handsomely.

Fences Serve Many Purposes

Can Add Decorative Touch Around Home

Fences are versatile critters. They can solve many a problem like wind control, put a stop to arguments over boundary lines, be used as traffic regulators to keep our four-footed marauders and pen in two-footed, under-age explorers.

There are times and places, however, when a fence is used primarily as a decorative piece—nothing more—a bit of eye-interest which contributes line and accent to the home.

One place where the fence is used primarily as decoration is along the driveway. So often the lines of the property are flat here; one lot flows into another, and the result is that the driveway gives a feeling of being too utilitarian, an intruder on nature's scene. But line it with a handsome fence and the results are startling. Suddenly dimension and form appear and change the prosaic into beauty.

DECORATIVE FENCING requires a decorative pattern, but one must be discriminate in choosing colors and materials, for garish color and unnatural material can destroy a desired effect and obtrude on the pattern of nature. As a rule, time-honored materials like wood are the safest, for wood can be easily moulded into needed shapes and sizes. And, of course, being a product of nature itself, it compliments existing lawns, shrubbery and trees.

One type of fence that enjoys great popularity as being decorative is made up of 1x6 inch boards installed vertically in an offset pattern. Here, dimensional relief is achieved through the shadow lines cast by the front boards on the back panels, and additional texture can be gotten by using rough sawn boards of a top quality softwood like western red cedar.

MANY LANDSCAPE architects top this fence with lacy openwork, rather than the usual cap, to lend lightness to the pattern, and if there are rocks or shrubs present

Endive-Plus Salad

Ingredients: 1 buffet size can (8 1/4 ounces) sliced beets, 1 small cucumber, 2 stalks endive, French dressing, 1 hard-cooked egg.

Method: Drain beets. Scrub cucumber in cold water; dry; with swivel-blade vegetable peeler pare cucumber, leaving some of peel on for lengthwise striped effect; slice thin. Wash outside of endive in cold water; drain and quarter each stalk lengthwise.

Arrange endive, cucumber and beets on 4 individual salad plates; drizzle with French dressing. Garnish with sliced egg. Makes 4 servings.

The Question Box

QUESTION: I'd like to do a complete refinishing job on some wrought iron railing outside our house. The iron is beginning to scale and there are small rust spots in several places.

ANSWER: Better not delay the refinishing any longer because those rust spots will spread. Remove as much of the old paint and rust as possible. If there are a lot of curves in the railwork, you'll have to improvise to get at certain parts of the metal.

A toothbrush or a hacksaw blade, or both, can be used for brushing and scraping on the inside of curves. A wire brush is best for the more easily accessible places. Be certain that all loose paint and rust are removed, then apply a coat of red lead or any other metal primer.

Let it stand for a day, if possible, or at the least, 8 hours. Then paint with a good quality exterior metal paint.

QUESTION: Can rubber tiles be used on a bathroom wall? A neighbor has made this suggestion, but I thought rubber tiles were made only for floors.

ANSWER: Rubber tiles sometimes are used for walls as well as floors. Since they are waterproof, they can be used effectively in the bathrooms.

You do not say what the present bathroom walls are made of, but it is essential that the surface be absolutely smooth if the tiles are to look right. If necessary, you can attach wallboard to the walls, then cement on the tiles.

QUESTION: About a year ago I installed white ceiling tiles in a room in our house. Somehow, one of the tiles has become very dirty.

I tried brushing it lightly but it didn't work. The dirt is still there. How can I get this tile clean without spoiling it entirely?

ANSWER: Assuming that the tiles are the ordinary fibrous kind, try rubbing the soiled one with an eraser. However, it must be what is called an art gum eraser.

QUESTION: In converting an ordinary door into a Dutch door, where do I make the cut to divide it into 2 pieces—exactly at the center?

ANSWER: The door should be sawed at a point about 3 inches higher than the doorknob. . . so that, when the cut is completed, the doorknob remains on the lower part.

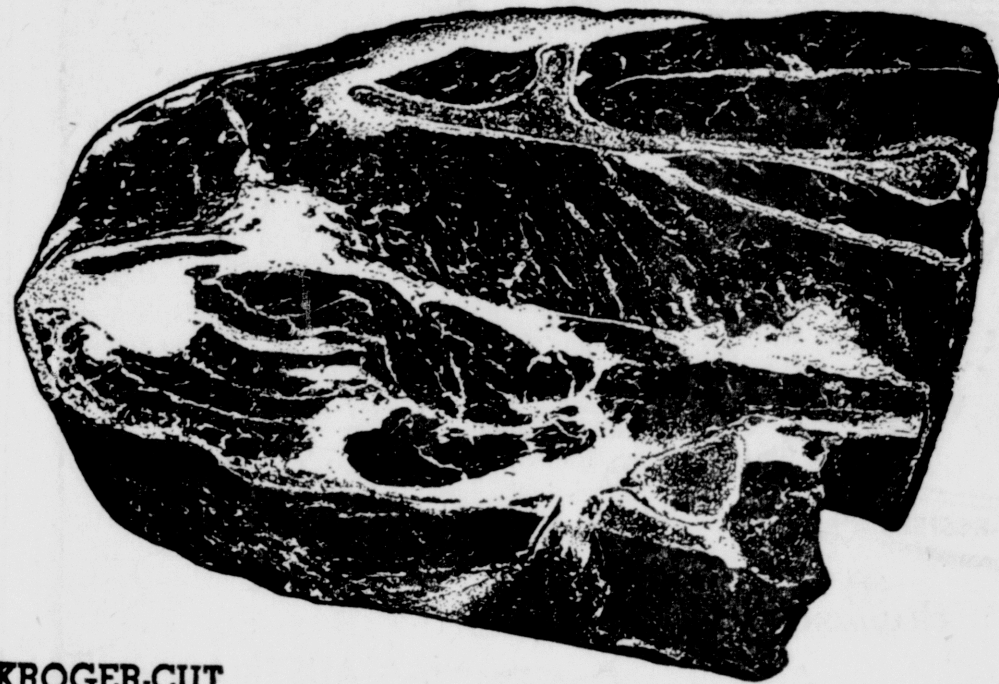

QUESTION: I plan to paint the inside masonry walls of our garage with rubber-base paint. I have used a spray gun successfully in the past, but never with this kind of paint. Will it work?

ANSWER: Rubber-base paint is a bit too heavy for most kinds of home-type spray guns, although it can be used in one of the heavier professional-type guns. However, if you wish to take a crack at it, ask your dealer for the special thinner for rubber-base paints.

Use about one pint of it to every gallon of paint. If the paint is used as is, it probably will clog the gun. No matter which method you use, be absolutely certain that the masonry is completely dry before painting it with rubber-base paint.

U.S. STAKE IN FRENCH CRISIS — The political crisis in France has focused attention on that nation's vital geographical position in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. As newsmag above shows, France is the major port of entry to the continent. Across her run the main supply routes, with their attendant warehouses, depots and repair shops for U.S. troops in West Germany, free Europe's first line of defense. The United States has invested 1.5 billion dollars and eight years in building up a huge military and supply complex within France, containing materiel worth another billion. The 371-mile pipeline was built at a cost of 60 million dollars. On French soil are 55,000 American troops and 50 air base sites used by NATO nations, besides numerous U.S. military installations. There are 200,000-plus troops in West Germany. Should France pull out of NATO, not only would French troops, ports and bases be lost, but Kaiserlautern, main U.S. base in Germany, would be cut off. The German ports of Bremerhaven and Hamburg are too close to Red territory to be relied on. A route across the Low Countries could be constructed, but at an immense expenditure of money and time.

Home Handy Men Can Tackle Maintenance of Roll Roofing

If you have a flat-roofed garage, porch or car port covered with roll roofing, its maintenance is a chore that you can handle. A "flat" roof usually has a slope of about 1/4 inch per foot to permit rain runoff, so you'll hardly need maintain-goat agility to tackle the job. Just watch your step.

HERE'S HOW:

Some people follow a yearly program of coating the entire roof with asbestos roof coating whether or not the impregnated felt needs renewing. On older roofs, where tiny cracks are likely to be numerous, this is a wise plan.

It may be necessary to remove a small strip of the roofing to lie perfectly flat. Trowel some heavy cement over the slit. Spread generously.

While the cement is still wet, place the previously cut patch of roll roofing over the spot. Press firmly, making the patch as smooth as possible.

Nail the edges of the patch. Use galvanized or some other non-rusting nail. Once the patch is nailed in place, cover the edges with more cement. Cover nailheads, too.

Smaller cracks can be repaired with heavy roof cement alone. Trowel in plenty to fill the crack and coat the area around it.

LEAKS CAN DEVELOP along the edges of a porch roof, where it meets the house. A coating of

SAVING WORKSHOP SPACE

DO. remember that, for those who have a minimum amount of home workshop space at their disposal, it is important to assign a storage space to every tool or piece of material.

DO. store all small hardware—nuts, bolts, cotter pins, etc.—in small glass jars, nailing the tops of the jars to the underside of a shelf so that the items are both visible and handy.

DO. use overhead space for the storage of lumber, doing it with ready-made metal suspen-

THE MISTAKE OF UNCONTROLLED ACCESS

A brand-new highway is opened

But in a few months...

For example, U.S. Rt. 1 (Baltimore-Washington) is cluttered with:

618
Commercial establishments

655
Advertising signs and billboards

2,450
Private homes with entrances on highway

LIMITED ACCESS IS THE ANSWER

TOMORROW: Problems of the new freeways.

Damascus

A Spencer family get-together Mrs. Paul Bayless Friday evening was held at the home of Mr. and with a supper served on the patio. Those from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Spencer and family of East Goshen and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Beardsley and daughter of Ellsworth. Seventeen were in attendance.

Girl Scout Troop 2 enjoyed a lunch and wiener roast at the Community Center Saturday. The business session was in charge of Ada Mae Hanna with Karen Risbeck giving a report of the previous meeting.

The Girl Scout Promise was repeated and each girl gave a law.

Part of the girls worked on their Father's Day gift and others took a hike.

For lack of material, the curtains and cupboards which they planned to make were postponed until June 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Hakes of Williamsport, Pa. called on Dr. and Mrs. Walter R. Williams Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Stanley of Hudson spent Thursday night and part of Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Merian Hole.

Dr. Walter Williams, former missionary superintendent of Ohio Yearly Meeting, has finished teaching in Malone College in the Bible and Foreign missionary department during the past year. This concludes 51 years in the United States and China as teacher, preacher and superintendent and missionary.

He retired as general superintendent of Ohio Yearly Meeting in September, 1957 and then was prevailed upon to teach at Malone College for a year. His first object is to write a book.

MRS. NELLIE GRIFFITH of Beloit returned home Sunday evening after spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Griffith.

Rev. and Mrs. Charles Bailey and Mr. and Mrs. Willard Yengling accompanied by Mrs. Lena Mott of Beloit attended commencement exercises at Malone College in Canton Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hall and sons attended the Barkey reunion at Silver Park Alliance Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gilbert and family have moved to New Garden. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grove of RD 2, Beloit, are moving to the property vacated by them.

Mr. and Mrs. Omar Shreve spent the weekend with Rev. and Mrs. Lowell Shreve and family of Raisin Center, Mich.

The Intercessors Band will be in charge of the prayer meeting at the Friends Church Thursday at 8 p.m. Perry Rawson will be the leader. There will be a called monthly business meeting immediately after the prayer meeting.

The Daily Vacation Bible School program will be presented Sunday at 10:30 a.m. in the Friends Church.

Mrs. Kenneth Cobbs and Mrs. Charles Winn are in charge of the school this week with Mrs. Earl Smith director.

Rev. Paul Uhrig of Winston-Salem, N.C., preached at the evening service in the Friends Church Sunday.
